HIGH COURT MAY SETTLE DISPUTE ON ARMY BALLOT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — A move developed in congress today to push the constitutionality of federal absentee ballots to a quick supreme court test in an effort to end the quarrel over voting methods for the armed forces.

Senator Hatch, D., N. M., announced that he had conferred with Attorney General Biddle on legislation necessary to bounce a federal ballot bill into the court for a ruling far enough in advance of the election to remove any possible post-election contests of service votes.

He will present the plan Monday to senate and house colleagues as they begin the third week of their stalemated attempt to find a service voting law that will satisfy both the administration's federal ballot advocates and the "states rights" forces.

The New Mexico senator—a federal ballot supporter and one of the senate conferees—will propose that a service vote law be passed setting up a federal absentee ballot, and include in it language blueprinting a supreme court test before the votes are actually cast.

Agreement on the Hatch plan would dispose of one of the chief argument states righters have advanced against a federal ballot. They contend a federal voting form would set up a constitutional invasion of the rights of states to make their own election rules. They have been fighting against any use of federal ballots unless the bill specifies that they meet the test of state election laws.

SFORZA OPPOSES CHURCHILL PLAN

NAPLES, Feb. 26 (AP) — Count Carlo Sforza, democratic leader who carried the torch of Italy's anti-fascists through years of exile in the United States, today expressed bitter opposition to Prime Minister Winston Churchill's thesis that King Vittorio Emanuele should remain on the throne and Marshall Pietro Badoglio retain the premiership until the allies capture Rome.

He declared, furthermore, that the leaders of six anti-fascist political parties, comprising the Italian committee for national liberation, concurred in his "profound disagreement" with the view of the Italian political situation Churchill expressed in his war review on Tuesday.

(In London the magazine New Statesman and Nation assailed Churchill's decision as "neither honest politics nor sound strategy. The idea that the allies are supposed to be fighting for certain principles and rights seems to have been cynically discarded from his mind. Nothing counts save military victory.")

Sforza denounced Churchill's speech on three points:

1. Churchill's "alleged fear that a democratic government might 'oppose requests from the allies' is an unjustified attack on the loyalty of democratic Italians devoted to the allied cause, all the more so since our main reason for our opposition to the present Italian government is its inability to help America and Britain in their struggle."

2. Sforza considered "unfair Churchill's statement that 'representatives of the Italian parties are anxious to attain power.' "

3. In Sforza's opinion "Churchill was also wrongly informed when he stated a democratic government could have 'no valid authority over the armed forces.' In reality some of the youngest, ablest generals who ever got ahead because they were anti-fascists are with us and are the only ones who may gain the confidence and enthusiastic respect of our soldiers."

Sforza warned that the Italian people will not hold with the king and Badoglio and "will go to communism."

Organized Relief Program Started

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — The United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration is undertaking its first functional operation, it was disclosed today, by caring for European refugees in Egypt and Syria.

Miss Mary Craig McGeachey, UNRRA's new director of relief, announced that the organization was in the process of taking over these camps at the request of the British middle east relief and rehabilitation administration.

Simultaneously, Herbert H. Lehman, director general of UNRRA, announced a program for enlisting the help of voluntary relief agencies in the organization's activities in liberated countries.

TRAIN CRASH KILLS ONE

PEORIA, Ariz., Feb. 26 (AP)—An eastbound California-Arizona Santa Fe freight locomotive and 10 cars plunged off the tracks, crushing to death, the conductor and injuring two brakemen near here today when the engineer applied emergency brakes in an effort to avoid a cow lingering on the roadbed.

Four-Month-Old Filer Baby Dies, Six Hurt as Auto Rams Parked Truck

A four-months-old Filer boy was killed and six persons injured when their coupe crashed into the rear of a truck parked on the highway south and west of Twin Falls at about 7:45 last night.

The rear of the truck was asserted to have been without lights, and Deputy Sheriff Ed Hall said charges would be filed Monday against B. R. Off, 44, a resident of Arizona, who was driver of the vehicle.

The baby killed in the accident was Darrel Duane Slatter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Slatter, route two, Filer, both of whom are among those hospitalized. The father was driver of the car.

Mrs. Gertrude Slatter, 22, the baby's mother, was considered most seriously injured of those taken to the hospital, but her physician could not be reached early today and the extent of her injuries could not be definitely determined. A hospital attendant said her injuries were "serious but not critical." She was unofficially reported to have received a broken leg, but this could not be confirmed.

Baby's Uncle Hurt

Others taken to the hospital included Orval Slatter, 29, Jerome, brother of the driver. He received lacerations about the head and possibly a fractured hip, his physician said. His condition was considered good.

James Wilks, 15, who is employed by Clyde Slatter, received a cut on the head and his physician said his condition was good.

Injuries believed not to be serious were received by Jeanne Slatter, 10, and Dunnie Dean Slatter, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Slatter, 148 Pierce, Twin Falls, and niece and nephew, respectively, of the Filer man.

Injuries received by the driver could not be learned early today but they were not believed to be critical.

Stopped for Tire

The accident resulted indirectly from a flat tire on a 1940 light coupe driven by Vendil Off, 19, son of the driver of the truck, who was accompanied by his wife and their three small children. They were traveling together, and the youth's mother was with his father in the truck, a 1934 model.

Both vehicles were headed east at a point a quarter of a mile west of the "filter plant corner" two miles south of Twin Falls, Hall said, when they stopped to repair the tire on the sedan. The coupe came from the west to strike the rear of the truck, which was loaded with household goods, and on which Hall said he could find no warning lights. The damage done by the col-

Tightening of Draft Slated On FR Order

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—A sharply accelerated draft rate appeared in prospect tonight, as a result of President Roosevelt's order for an immediate review of all occupational deferments and a speedy start on making up a 200,000-man deficit in army inductions.

Moving toward that end, selective service already has tightened rules for deferment of agricultural workers and draft officials, told congress this week that it may be necessary to rule out industrial deferments for all men under 26. The minimum age for industrial deferments now is 22.

Orders Distributed

Selective service headquarters sent copies of President Roosevelt's order to all state directors immediately after its issuance at the White House today and directed that it be transmitted to all local boards and appeal boards.

The state directors were directed to review the cases of all men between ages 18 and 37 deferred in classes 2-A, 2-B, 2-C and 3-C.

In considering reclassifications, local boards were instructed to give "particular attention to registrants under 26 years of age in view of the President's statement that agriculture and industry should release the younger men for military service."

Leniency Cited

Noting that nearly 5,000,000 men have been deferred for occupational reasons, Mr. Roosevelt declared he was convinced "that in this respect we have been overly lenient, particularly with regard to the younger men."

Selective service has failed since last September to meet monthly quotas set by the armed services with the result that on Dec. 31 the army had 200,000 fewer men than originally planned on that date.

Steel Strikers Return to Work

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26 (AP) — Twenty blast furnaces and more than 90 open hearth furnaces in Monongahela valley mills of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation resumed "nearly full" operation just before midnight tonight following the return of several hundred striking workers to their duties at the huge Clairton coke works of the firm, a company spokesman said.

The strike started at midnight last night when about 140 men, members of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America, refused to work because of a grievance over line promotions in the coke works.

RUSSIAN FORCES CLOSE ON PSKOV

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP) — The northern red army closing on Pskov from the east and northeast captured two large railway stations today and cleared a 105-mile stretch of railway between Dno and Novosokolniki forming a well-knit front less than 70 miles from Latvia, Moscow announced tonight.

More than 318 localities were taken in the northern fighting, including Novoselye, 26 miles northeast of Pskov on the Pskov-Leningrad line and Porkhov, 45 miles to the east on the Pskov-Staraya Russa route, said the Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Gaining approximately ten miles a day, the Russians were giving the retreating nazi forces little time to dig in for a stand. If Pskov is taken, German positions in the north will be seriously weakened, for Pskov is the control center for four railways and two highways.

Even bigger strides were made by the Russians southeast of Pskov as they moved out from captured Kholm and Novosokolniki. By clearing the railway between Dno and Novosokolniki they freed an important sector of the Leningrad-Odessa line and forced the Germans back to the Pskov-Idritsa line for north-south communications.

Adolf Hitler was reported to have hurried to the northern front to investigate the causes of recent German defeats in this sector where the nazi armies have fallen back steadily toward the Estonian, Latvian and Polish borders.

Quoting a Swedish source, the French radio at Algiers said that Hitler had gone to the front with staff generals to bolster the nazi resistance to the red army's great onslaught.

Ex-Governor Denies Taking $500 Bribe

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26 (AP)—The defense rested late today after former Gov. Leon C. Phillips, charged with conspiracy, drawled to a packed courtroom that he "never received a cent" for paroling Dr. J. W. Elsminger, an Oklahoma City osteopath.

Four witnesses were called in the one day the defense took to present testimony intended to prove the 300-pound Phillips innocent of receiving $500 of the $8,000 which Mrs. Marie Elsminger claims she paid to free her husband.

Allied Air Offensive Hits Nazi War Output

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Giant fires burned themselves out in Augsburg tonight and the ruins of at least 14 other centers of German aircraft production gave smouldering evidence of the greatest sustained aerial onslaught in history—an onslaught that a high American air force spokesman said had now rendered nazi factories unable to keep up with combat losses.

The Germans in six days have lost 641 planes in air combat with the American invaders alone, plus many more new ones on the ground outside factories, and uncounted others in process of completion in the bombed works.

The cost to the allies has not been negligible: Abut 3,500 airmen on 400 heavy bombers and 50 fighters lost, roughly $100,000,000 worth of planes, but the loss was described as economical in view of the aggregate of 17,000 sorties and the great damage done to the enemy.

The offensive which began one week ago tonight with 2,300 long tons of bombs hurled on Leipzig by the RAF, was rounded out with a 1,700-ton RAF overnight blow against Augsburg. The week's bomb tonnage was estimated at 17,500 dropped by the Americans and the RAF together.

HUNT

MERIDEN, Conn., Feb. 26—An organized hunt for a wildcat failed to turn up the prowler. Talk of renewing the hunt was quickly squelched at the close of the first day because too many of the nimrods saw and shot at too many animals bearing too little resemblance to wildcats. Among the mistaken targets were rabbits and partridge, now out of season.

Death of McNary to Shuffle Senate Republican Leaders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — A reshuffle of the senate's Republican organization, with aggressive-minded "young Turks" in control, seemed in the making today as minority members moved to fill the gap left by the death of Charles L. McNary of Oregon, their leader since 1933.

Although all of the Republicans agreed that nothing official will be done until after funeral services are held in Oregon Friday for McNary, "freshmen" and "sophomore" members appeared determined to force the selection of a successor pledged to put new fight into the minority group.

Will Attend Rites

Many Republican and Democratic colleagues will attend the rites for the 69-year-old Oregon senator, who died yesterday in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where he went to recuperate from a brain operation last November.

There was talk, meanwhile, among the more newly-elected Republicans of casting off the restraints McNary often had imposed and of electing an official lineup which would go "all out" against the new deal.

This group, representing approximately 15 of the present 36 Republican members, had in mind a slate like this:

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan—himself a "young Turk" during the late twenties—for chairman of the minority conference, a position carrying with it the authority to name at least six of a proposed nine-member steering committee which would determine the party's stand on controversial legislation.

Taft Mentioned

Senator Taft of Ohio for floor leader, a job entailing active direction of Republican maneuvers in the senate and in committees, carrying with it the responsibility of speaking for the party on major issues.

BOTT GETS STATE SCHOOLS REQUEST FOR ADDED FUNDS

BOISE, Feb. 26 (AP)—A committee representing Idaho educational agencies presented a formal breakdown of teacher salary needs to Governor Bottolfsen tonight, requesting a state appropriation of $368,081.17 and sentiment favoring a second special session of the legislature appeared to be growing.

Several Republican legislators said they felt certain the members in caucuses tomorrow will ask the governor to call another session to follow the soldier vote session which opens Monday. Bottolfsen reiterated today that he would issue the second call if the legislature wants it.

Solons Arrive

A few early arriving lawmakers came here tonight, but the bulk were expected to arrive tomorrow. Speaker of the House Milton Horsley R-Cariboo, called a Republican caucus of house members for 8 p. m. tomorrow, and Dr. C. A. Robins, R., Benewah, president pro-tem of the senate set a meeting of Republican senators for 3 p.m. The meetings will be primarily to organize the party groups, but the education representatives may confer with them at the same time.

If the education program is not brought up at the party meetings, it may be presented to a joint session of all the 103 legislators of both houses sometime tomorrow. The governor has indicated he will make his decision on the second extraordinary session after these meetings.

Meanwhile a one-day disposal of the soldier vote bills appeared less likely. The legislature has been called to meet at noon Monday. Organization and the governor's message to both houses at a joint session will take until the middle of the afternoon.

Bills Amend Law

In the senate the two bills, one amending the primary laws to set the date at June 13 instead of August 8 and the second providing the form of the absentee ballot to be sent to servicemen, may be rushed through under suspension of the rules which require first, second and third reading on separate days.

The Republican majority is 32 to 12, more than the two-thirds majority required for suspension of rules. In the house, however, the Republicans have 34 members and the Democrats 25—not enough to suspend the rules.

Democratic sentiment is strong for incorporation provisions for handling of any federal ballots which may be cast, but the Republicans generally oppose this.

Russian-Finn Peace Treaty Thought Near

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Peace may come to war-weary Finland early next week with acceptance by the Finns of Soviet Russia's six-point terms, diplomats agreed tonight as they kept their attention on negotiations between the two countries.

One big stumbling block in the terms, which circulated here unofficially, was said to be a Russian demand for the internment of 100,000 German troops in northern Finland.

Another serious problem was posed by Russia's reported demand for restoration of the 1940 borders, beyond which Finnish troops have advanced.

The Stockholm Aftonbladet's Helsinki correspondent said this provision was a shock to the Finnish people because many thousand Karelians already have moved back into the land of the Karelian isthmus between Lake Ladoga and the Gulf of Finland which was ceded to Russia in 1940.

The view that peace negotiations had made distinct progress was strengthened by the mere fact that Finnish censorship, ordinarily strict, had permitted publication of the purported Russian terms. This seemed to signify the government was perparing its people for some important move. The 1940 peace caused profound surprise among the Finns at home because they then thought they were winning the war.

100 Red Bombers Attack Helsinki

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 26 (AP)—Approximately 100 Russian planes raided Helsinki tonight, reports reaching the Swedish press said.

An indication of the attack was given when telephone service between the Finnish capital and Stockholm was broken at 6 p. m. and connections had not been restored at midnight.

The attack came as the Finnish government was reported considering Russian armistice terms.

Partisans Seize German Airfield

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Partisans have captured a German airdrome at Trizic, Slovenia, and destroyed eight enemy bombers, a broadcast communique from headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) in Yugoslavia announced tonight.

In Herzegovina the German Prinz Eugen division has started offensive operations but a regiment of that division was routed near Gacko and lost more than 130 dead, the communique said.

2 Jap Bases Hit in Yank Air Attacks

By LEONARD MILLIMAN

Associated Press War Editor

American destroyers shelled Kavieng for the third time and bombers blasted the heart of Rabaul, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today as axis radios reported a violent battle was being fought for Guam.

The United States navy department offered neither confirmation nor denial of a Berlin broadcast that a fight "for possession of the Pacific isle of Guam" has been underway for days.

Destroyers, unhampered by Japanese warships or planes, sank one ship and left two in flames in Kavieng harbor on the northern tip of New Ireland, about 650 miles south of Truk. Another cargo vessel was left sinking off nearby New Hanover island.

Japs in Flight

Japanese were reported pulling out of both Kavieng and Rabaul, where Adm. William F. Halsel's bombers turned from blasting her airdromes to hitting "the weakening enemy base" in the city itself. A munitions dump, a power plant and many buildings were demolished and a score of fires started.

On the opposite flank of the Bismarck sea medium bombers and attack planes destroyed ten Japanese aircraft at the Wewak air center on New Guinea, damaged 13 others, hit ten barges and silenced four gun positions.

More than 2,000 miles north of Wewak, Tokyo radio said in a broadcast yesterday (Saturday), American "naval formations are attacking Guam.

Only previous recent mention of Guam, former U. S. outpost captured by the Japanese in the first week of the Pacific war, was in Adm. Chester W. Nimitz's Friday communique when he reported the island was attacked by the same carrier forces that raided strong enemy bases at Saipan and Tinian Tuesday. All three islands are in the southern Marianas, about 1,400 miles south of Tokyo.

Sea Action Hinted

The wording of the broadcasts suggest an amphibious action, but it is similar to the vague terminology previously used in Tokyo broadcasts to describe carrier-borne air attacks and naval bombardments.

Associated Press War Correspondent Vern Haugland said 400 Japanese fliers and ground crewmen, being evacuated from Rabaul and Kavieng to Truk and Tokyo, were crowded on a transport sunk by allied bombers.

In the Philippines Jose P. Laurel, Japan's puppet president, made use of his recently-assumed dictatorial powers by decreeing that all able-bodied Filipinos between 16 and 60 were subject to draft as agricultural workers and could be compelled to devote a day's labor free to the government each week.

STATE FARMING CHIEF RESIGNS

BOISE, Feb. 26 (UP)—Governor Bottolfsen today announced that he had accepted the resignation of Harvey Schwendiman, Newdale, as commissioner of agriculture, effective March 6.

The governor added that he would appoint R. H. Young, president of the state public utilities commission, as Schwendiman's successor, and that Young in turn would be succeeded by J. D. Richey, present secretary of the commission.

In his resignation, Schwendiman said "the fact that I am being urged by many of my friends in all parts of the state to become a candidate for governor causes me to consider the proposition seriously."

2 More Victims Of Storm Found

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26 (AP)—The bodies of two more storm victims were found by sheriff's deputies today as new rains pelted southern California valley areas and fresh snow fell heavily over the mountains.

The Kern county sheriff was informed of the discovery of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Bruce outside their cabin near Mojave. They were believed to have perished of hunger and exposure after attempting to break through the high-piled snowdrifts in the Jawbone canyon district. They were the seventh and eight known victims of the week-old storm.

Nine sleeping cars were left standing on the track.

NAZI LOSSES AT ANZIO MOUNTING

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 26 (AP) — The Germans have suffered about 15,000 casualties on the beachhead at Anzio since the allied landing Jan. 22 and the ten nazi divisions there have now been thrown temporarily on the defensive while they are regrouping, an allied spokesman announced tonight.

The spokesman, reviewing the Anzio situation "now that the enemy's first reaction is over," said that the German casualty figures included 2,816 prisoners.

The German attacks on the allied positions on the beachhead have been "supported by a larger weight of artillery than had been encountered hitherto in the African and Italian campaigns," the spokesman said, but he added that the attack had been defeated.

As a result, the German program for relieving a number of top divisions for the west has been upset, ten enemy divisions have been forced to remain on the beachhead sector and German garrisons in France and Yugoslavia have been weakened to meet the threat to Rome, the spokesman said.

His statement, issued on a day of relative lull on the Italian front except for heavy artillery duelling, was the first overall summary of the beachhead situation since the landing.

The fierce four-day German attack which has just been thrown back managed to penetrate the allied Anzio positions to "a depth of two kilometers astride the main road" before being held all along the line, the announcement said.

U.S. Studies New Argentine Status

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Information reached here today that President Pedro Ramirez of Argentina resigned under compulsion, and this opened up the question of United States recognition of the regime at Buenos Aires. The state department confined itself to the comment that this government is watching the situation with extreme care.

However, it is understood that information and views are being exchanged among the other American republics, with primary attention directed at the substance rather than the form of recent events in the Argentine.

BABY KILLED AS CAR HITS TRUCK

lision indicated that the coupe was traveling at a fair rate of speed, Hall said, and he could find no skid marks which might have been caused by the application of brakes.

The exact location of the parked truck could not be determined after the collision last night, but Hall said that it had not been driven entirely off the oiled surface of the road before it was stopped.

The deputy sheriff said the coupe appeared to be a total wreck after the collision, and the rear of the truck was badly damaged.

First to arrive at the scene of the wreck was H. O. Turner, who lives in the neighborhood. He called the ambulance which took part of the injured to the hospital. The rest were taken in other vehicles.

Four-months old Darrell Slatter was Twin Falls county's first traffic fatality of the year, and the third of 1944 for the Magic Valley. The last traffic death for the valley occurred Feb. 23 at Jerome, when Dan Easterly, 24, was struck by a car as he walked along the highway.

The body of the baby was taken to the Reynolds mortuary.

U.S. Launches Big Aircraft Carrier

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—The 27,100-ton carrier Bennington was christened today at the navy yard in Brooklyn as Assistant Navy Secretary for Air Artemus L. Gates credited to floating airports a major share in stopping Japanese Pacific advances and in lessening the U-boat menace.

Gates told an audience of several thousand watching the baptism of the 11th Essex class carrier launched since Pearl Harbor:

"Without our plane carriers and their well trained aviators, Australia and New Zealand and other islands in the south and southwest Pacific might today be provinces of Japan's 'greater east Asia co-prosperity sphere' and the Japanese fleet might be carrying on attacks at will against our west coast and the American continent."

'Buckshot Threat' Trial in Recess

The trial of Earl Austin, about 23, of the Rock Creek community, who is charged with "threatening to commit an offense against the person" of George Henry, a neighbor, will be continued on a day next week which is yet to be set, it was said by Probate Judge C. A. Bailey, who is hearing the case.

The complaint against Austin was signed last Jan. 18 by Henry, who charged that Austin had threatened last Dec. 17 to "fill him full of buckshot."

Only arguments by attorneys—Ray D. Agee, assistant county prosecutor, for the state and Frank L. Stephan for Austin—remain to complete the trial.

Eacker, a milk processing company employe, who lives at 338 Diamond street, was arraigned before Probate Judge C. A. Bailey shortly after his arrest by Twin Falls county and city officers Saturday morning. He requested time to engage counsel and also asked for a preliminary hearing, which was set for 10 a. m. Monday. Last Dec. 18 is given as the date of the alleged offense.

Idaho Officer Evacuated 300 Wounded Yanks

(This story was written by Tech. Sgt. Gene Ward, New York City, a marine corps combat correspondent, and distributed by the Associated Press.)

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC (Delayed)—Tiny Betio island was a no-man's land during the battle of Tarawa. The casualties were large. One man, Marine First Lieut. Karl T. Homer, was responsible for the successful evacuation of 300 marine wounded.

As a result of his service, Lieutenant Homer, son of John M. Homer, Idaho Falls, Ida., has been praised highly by his commanding officer.

Lieutenant Homer organized the wounded into a group and carried out the evacuation from the beach to the end of a pier, where landing boats could return them to the ships.

This pier was almost constantly under fire and was burning in several spots. Organizing and guiding carrying parties, Lieutenant Homer proceeded with the evacuation under cover of darkness, bringing in badly needed ammunition and supplies from the end of the pier on return trips.

His commanding officer, Major Robert H. Rudd, said, "His initiative and energetic conduct were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

NAZI PRODUCTION SLOWED BY RAIDS

lull today, with Typhoon patrols over the French coast as the only activity reported. These cost the nazis two planes.

The American spokesman disclosed that since Jan. 1 twin-engined fighter production in the reich has been cut 80 per cent and single-engined fighter production 60 per cent.

Terrific Damage

The greatest damage of all was probably done in the past week, he said, when the eighth U. S. air force alone dropped 7,935 tons of bombs in Germany — a greater amount than that force dropped during its entire first year of operations in the European theater.

With the tonnage of the Italy-based 15th U. S. air force, the American total rose to 9,425.

The spokesman expressed belief that Germany had lost her last hope of maintaining a successful air defense. She cannot prevent the strategic bombing of any target in Germany, he declared, coupling this flat assertion with a promise that allied operations would increase as the year progressed.

The climactic night attack on Augsburg by the RAF was carried out in two sections, solid blows spaced two and one-half hours apart.

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle and Air Marshal Sir Arthur Harris, American and British chiefs of the strategic bomber forces in Britain, examined together early this morning the first reports on the Augsburg attacks. They also discussed the similar attack on Schweinfurt the night before.

6 Nazis Admit Blows

The German radio admitted heavy damage at Augsburg from the second wave of bombers, reporting there was little chance to get the first fires under control before the second section arrived.

At least 15 centers of the German aircraft industry were hit repeated smashing blows during the week—Regensburg in four separate attacks; Augsburg and Schweinfurt three each, Leipzig, Gotha, Brenburg, Brunswick, Stuttgart and Steyr, twice each; and Tutow, Oschersleben, Aschersleben, Hannover, Halberstadt and Fuerth once each. Several of these cities had more than one plant that was hit.

Conservative hopes rose—not of "bombing Germany out of the war"—but of bombing her into critical weakness so that invasion can be swift and victory early.

M'NARY'S DEATH TO SHIFT SENATE

sistant leader, a post to which he already has been elected.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska would remain as whip, charged with having members present for important roll calls, and Senator Burton of Ohio as secretary of the conference.

Vandenberg was elected vice-chairman of the conference, White designated acting leader, and Wherry and Burton named to the two other offices at a meeting last Thursday when McNary was re-elected leader. The "young Turks" were in the saddle at that meeting but Vandenberg made it plain the lineup was only temporary until such time as McNary returned or it became apparent that he could not do so. McNary's death thus threw the question of the leadership wide open again.

Talk of Danaher, Conn.

There was talk of Senator Danaher as a possible choice for leader but most of the members of the younger group made it plain they favor the selection of Taft, who has been severely critical of many administration legislative proposals but has sought to compromise others.

Taft has said that others of his colleagues, including Vandenberg, have seniority and has indicated that he would not accept unless his choice was agreeable to all. Vandenberg declined to comment.

Dollar Signups Won't Do Big Red Cross Job, Chairman Says

The Red Cross war fund drive which begins Wednesday, March 1, is not to be confused with the annual pre-war roll call—"dollar memberships simply will not complete the job facing the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter this year," Jay Merrill, 1944 drive chairman, declared last night.

He urged that individuals plan to give gifts of $10, or in any event, not less than $3, if the goal set for this area is reached.

Whole Family Should Give

"Furthermore, the fact that a man makes a donation in his place of business does not mean that the other adult members of the family should not contribute in their own names when contacted in the home."

The advance gifts committeemen, under the leadership of Tom C. Peavey, have been contacting business institutions and private institutions for the past week, soliciting gifts from $50 to $150. Merrill pointed out that the committee was not attempting to reach everyone who will give gifts of this size, but only a sufficient number to give "real impetus to the opening day of the drive."

Advance information submitted to the drive chairman indicates that the solicitations of this committee are meeting with the approval of those contacted. In the meantime, gifts in varying amounts continue to arrive at Red Cross headquarters daily. These gifts are being sent in principally by non-resident persons and individuals in isolated areas. The total of these gifts sent in was $454 at 4 p. m. Saturday.

Women Organizing

Organization of the women's committee which has charge of the solicitation of residential Twin Falls is rapidly being completed, according to Mrs. R. W. Carpenter, chairman of this portion of the drive. The women's committee will begin contacting Twin Falls residences early Wednesday morning, she said, and urged that housewives be prepared for the visit by having gifts ready.

Victor Filfiet, chairman of the downtown and warehouse solicitation also stated that his committee of solicitors will begin contacting all business houses at 9 a. m. Wednesday. The Twin Falls Lions club is in charge of business and warehouse solicitation.

"If each institution could have its gift ready, it would be greatly appreciated by the members of this committee," Filfiet said. "No solicitor or worker in this campaign receives any compensation for his labors, and it is only fair that everyone cooperate by having a definite answer for the solicitor the first time he calls."

Glenns Ferry PTA Talks Teacher Aid

GLENNS FERRY, Feb. 26—J. C. Eddy, assistant state superintendent of education, explained phases of the crisis being felt in the public schools at a public hearing called here by Mrs. L. L. Johnson, Glenns Ferry Parent-Teacher president.

He discussed the teacher shortage problem, emergency permits, the advantages of temporary combinations of small financially pressed districts, and salaries.

Mrs. Ruth Gwin, Elmore county superintendent, explained some of the conditions in the county, comparing the districts in regard to assessed valuation, number of pupils and mill levies. There are 20 certified elementary teachers in the county, and 13 permit teachers. There are 14 certificate teachers in the high schools, and seven permit teachers. Glenns Ferry is fortunate, since all are certificate teachers.

The P.-T. A. passed resolutions concerning emergency measures thought necessary to safeguard next year's public schools in Idaho, including minimum salaries, and will present them to Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen. Representatives of the railroad brotherhoods, the Commercial club and other local organizations have also signed the resolutions.

Cannery Expert Arrives in Buhl

BUHL, Feb. 26—Oran Scholl, who will be plant superintendent for the cannery being established at Buhl by the Bozeman Canning company, Mount Vernon, Wash., has arrived here to begin installation of machinery.

Installation and testing of machinery is expected to be completed during July, so that actual operations may start Aug. 1, it was said by D. T. (Bert) Bolingbroke, general manager, whose resignation as Twin Falls county agricultural agent becomes effective March 1.

Bolingbroke said the company plans to contract 2,000 acres of sweet corn this year, and that interviews with interested farmers will begin soon.

MAW HITS BUREAU CONTROL BY U. S.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 26 (U.P.)—Bureau control of government is dangerous and came into being through the Republican party, Gov. Herbert B. Maw, D., Utah, said today at a press conference.

The Republican party's theory of a strong central government is responsible for bureau control, Maw said. "When President Hoover was defeated in 1932 we had 126 bureaus. We have no more than that now, only they are larger. They are dangerous because they are too far from the vote of the people."

The governor, here for a public affairs luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce and a national broadcast, said the country needed centralization in war time, "but with the emergency passed, local control should be re-established. And the Democratic party is the party to re-establish it."

President Roosevelt will carry the national election "easily," Maw said, and added that the chief executive would have little or no trouble collecting Utah's electoral votes.

"The tax bill veto, Sen. Barkley's resignation, and subsequent overriding of the veto won't make any difference when the voter gets into the polling booth," Maw said. "The average voter will be thinking 'who's going to bring my boy home quickest'," and that's going to count heavily. People think the President has done a good job handling the war."

Wendell Willkie "seems to be strong among the working class, but doesn't have much strength among the Republican party organizations," the governor said in discussing Republican presidential possibilities. He said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, R., N. Y., was favored by the Republican organizations. Utah, he said, didn't know much about Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio.

He predicted Utah would become a steel center after the war, and develop into one of the great oil fields of the world. He felt there would be little post-war unemployment in his state.

4-H ACTIVITIES WILL BE NOTED

MOSCOW, Ida., Feb. 26—National 4-H mobilization week, March 4-12, is set aside for the purpose of checking the results made so far and of further strengthening this youth program to be carried on during the rest of the year, according to J. W. Barber, state 4-H club leader.

"Observance of the week will attract attention to the more recent accomplishments of 4-H club members already highlighted during the 4-H achievement week," the leader pointed out.

Last year 5,900 Idaho boys and girls were enrolled in 535 clubs. All projects were valued at $203,138 which cost them $137,177, leaving a labor income of $65,961.

A survey in 20 counties last summer by D. E. Warren, state 4-H specialist, to learn the direct contributions to the war effort by club members showed that members worked 97,937 man days on the home farm and 14,801 man days away from home. In addition they purchased $27,430 worth of war bonds, and sold $206,405 worth of bonds.

Club members produced the following amounts with their projects: 122,890 gallons of milk, 238,355 pounds of beef; 150,209 pounds of pork; 26,783 pounds of mutton; 26,994 pounds of poultry; 17,856 bushels of vegetables, and 308 tons of sugar beets.

FDR ASKS DRAFT CASES REVIEWED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (U.P.) — The White House announced today that President Roosevelt has called for the review of all occupational draft deferments with a view to making available quickly the personnel required by the armed forces.

Nearly 5,000,000 men hold occupational deferments.

In a memorandum to Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the selective service system, the President said that the manpower pool has been "dangerously depleted" by liberal deferments. He said he was convinced that the government has been overly lenient, particularly with regard to the younger men.

"The overage men, the physically disqualified, the returned soldier, and the women of the nation must be used more effectively to replace the able-bodied men in critical industry and agriculture," the President said.

New Balance Needed

The crucial campaigns this year will determine both the length of this war and its price in men and goods, the President's memorandum said. The nation is well equipped in food and munitions, it said, but their production has drawn over-heavily on available stocks of manpower.

"It is time to strike a new balance," the President said.

The chief executive pointed out that the selective service system has failed to deliver the quantity of men originally expected. He said the shortage which commenced to develop last September reached a total of 200,000 on Dec. 31. This means, he said, that today the armed services are still short approximately 200,000 trained men, although he said the actual personnel shortage in the army has been reduced to 150,000.

College Course Emasculated

"Today, as a result, we are forced to emasculate college courses and trained divisions and other units," he said. "The army will not reach its planned January strength until some time in April, or even later if selective service continues to fall behind on its quotas."

The President said that deferments for industry include over a million non-fathers, of whom 380,000 are under 26 years of age. Of almost a million non-fathers deferred in agriculture, over 550,000 are under 26.

Agriculture and industry, he said, should release the younger men who are physically qualified for military service.

"The present situation is so grave that I feel that the time has come to review all occupation deferments with the view to speedily making available the personnel required by the armed forces," the President said.

Jerome Marine Sends Parents Souvenirs of Pacific Action

JEROME, Feb. 26—Brief but gratifying statements of the recent American victory over the Japs in the Roi and Namur islands were received here by the parents of Pfc. Nile Darling, 21, of the U. S. marine corps.

The young marine wrote his mother: "I could send you a whole load of Jap ears but you wouldn't want them."

Nile, who is well known here, and is a former employe of the Drive-In market, Jerome, has been overseas less than a month, and is now in the Marshall island where he is connected with a medium tank division of the marines.

Enlisted in 1942

He enlisted Nov. 10, 1942, and completed his training at San Diego and Oceanside, Calif., marine schools.

Contained in the interesting letter sent to Mr. and Mrs. Scott Darling, his parents, Nile sent two pieces of paper currency which he had removed from dead Japanese.

Pleased over the successful American attack on these sections of the Marshalls, he wrote:

"My company landed on Roi and then we moved to Namur the following day and were secured that afternoon. It really looked good to see 'Old Glory' go up. I watched her hoisted on both islands. All the officers were really thrilled with the way that the tanks had operated.

"Speaking of the materiel left by the Japs when they evacuated the islands," he said, "they left us lots of beer, sake, food and money. When we landed and had the situation under control we had a little celebration. The only things I missed were bananas and the monkeys."

Wearing Short Pants

The marine said he would like to send some items for the paper back home but that he was unable to do so while in the Marshalls. He declared that the marines were having quite a time "running around in short pants."

"We're more like natives," he said. "We climb coconut trees and knock 'em down. I am as brown as an Indian."

In recent issues of many daily newspapers, pictures of the Jerome marine appeared as he stood beside a diminutive Japanese light tank placed on top of a massive American medium tank. The picture had been taken in the Marshalls, and the caption below the picture stated that the tank had been blasted out of action in the American victory in the Kwajalein atoll battle. Few American soldiers are small enough to get inside Jap light tanks to operate them.

From states of Missouri, California and New York, clippings of the picture were sent this week to Mr. and Mrs. Scott Darling, who have another son, Russell Darling, 25, a pilot in the air corps stationed at Bonham field, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Darling have seven sons.

By PAT PALMER

The teen-age perspective was convincingly portrayed by Twin Falls juniors who did a smooth job of putting a "Best Foot Forward" Friday evening in the second-night presentation of John C. Holm's play of that title.

Miss Elaine Glenn as the glamorous actress who invaded the premises of a straight-laced prep school and ended up as "Queen of the Prom," played the role with poise and charm. If Miss Glenn's interpretation of "Gale Joy" lacked the warmth of the red-haired Lucille Ball's in the movie version, her air of hauteur passed quite admirably for the sophistication that a 16-year-old miss just can't be expected to possess.

Carries Role Well

All the symptoms of adolescence were depicted by Bill Hardwick as the prep-school boy in a jam. He convinced both himself and his audience that a spring prom and graduating are events in life overshadowing all others.

Virginia Fuller effectively played the part of the hero's best girl, the typical ingenue who just can't fathom the workings of the male mind, particularly of the prep-school male mind.

Though playing a supporting role, Glen Frazier as the small-town newspaper reporter was uproariously funny. The audience laughed even before they heard his lines; as a comedian, young Glen is what Hollywood would call a "natural."

Excellent performances were also given by Shirley Bayless in the role of the spinsterish chaperone and Ilene Graham as the blind date or typical "goon."

Cast Well Supported

Through good support of the entire cast there were no awkward pauses and the play continued smoothly to the "all's-well-that-ends-well" conclusion.

"Best Foot Forward" was the juniors' annual class play and presented under the direction of Miss Florence Rees, assisted by Shirley Hayes and Don Travis. Special features were two off-the stage dances and a solo number by Miss Dixie Hinshaw.

CHAPLIN ORDERED HELD FOR TRIAL

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26 (UP)—Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor today ordered Charlie Chaplin held for trial on [illegible] slavery charges preferred by [illegible]-year-old Joan Barry, his one-time protege.

The judge ignored the plea of Jerry Giesler, Chaplin's attorney, that Miss Barry probably used her sex appeal unconsciously of course upon the all-male grand jury that indicted him on two charges of violating the Mann act.

One of the indictments said that Chaplin took Miss Barry to New York for immoral purposes in October, 1942. The other said he returned her to Hollywood three weeks later for the same reasons.

The dapper Chaplin, wearing a tan gabardine suit and a tan tie with red spots, stood before the bench, hands behind his back and in answer to the two charges, snapped:

"I am not guilty; I am not guilty."

He put some acting emphasis on the word "not."

Judge O'Connor asked attorneys when they would be ready to go to trial. U. S. Attorney Charles Carr said he needed only about 10 more days to finish preparing his case. Giesler said that he had to bring witnesses from the east, that he had no assistants, and that he needed more time. He received less than a month.

The judge set March 21 as the date for the start of what may become the most surprising of all Hollywood trials.

INDIVIDUAL CUT WON'T HIT SUGAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (U.P.) — Individual sugar rations were spared a trimming today by an office of price administration decision to make up for the reduced civilian sugar allocation by cutting allowances to food manufacturers.

The war food administration disclosed that the 1944 civilian sugar allotment would be about six per cent under 1943 consumption because of increasingly heavy demands for industrial alcohol needed in the manufacture of synthetic rubber and other war essentials.

The OPA said, however, that the brunt of the cut would be borne by makers of candy, soft drinks, and other so-called non-essential products and that individual consumers would not be affected.

Neither will supplies to hotels, restaurants, and manufacturers of jams, jellies and other essential foods be cut. Home canning sugar also will be spared a reduction.

At the same time OPA spokesmen disclosed that the rationing office will remove expiration dates from the current sugar stamp No. 30 and the new stamp No. 31 which becomes valid April 1. This was described as a measure to forestall unnecessary buying in the rush to "cash in" stamps toward the end of a period.

Mrs. L. E. Koonce and daughter, Ruth, returned to their home at Fairfield after visiting Mrs. Leda Mincar. They were en route home after visiting in the P. M. Jesness home, Mountain Home.

IRISH CULTURE

We don't mean to take issue with the late Mrs. George Bernard Shaw on the matter of Irish character. After all, Mrs. Shaw was Irish herself. And if she chose to leave $400,000 in her will "to teach the Irish self control, deportment, elocution and the art of personal behavior and social intercourse," she must have sincerely believed that the Irish need the instruction. After all, nobody is facetious to the tune of $400,000.

Our only point is that the Irish character must undergo a tremendous change when it is transplanted to foreign soil. And the manifestations of Irish culture that reach the outside world must be deceiving.

Take the matter of self-control. It is true that the individual Irishman has been known to indulge in an occasional saloon brawl in this land of his adoption. It is also true that a son of Eire, one Mickey Finn, lent his name to a potent sedative calculated to curb violence by more violent means. On the other hand it must be admitted that the Irish, as a government, have exercised too much self-control in keeping out of history's biggest fight, now in progress.

As for elocutionary deficiencies, our observation is again limited. But it happens that, though we have known illiterate Irishmen, we never knew an inarticulate one. In fact, we have frequently been impressed by the richness of expression and poetic fancy that flows without effort from the most unlearned Irish lips. It even creeps into their profanity.

Mrs. Shaw stipulated that some of the income from her bequest might be used to bring masterpieces of fine art within the range of the Irish people. If one does not limit fine art to the painted variety, a good bit of it has been produced by Ireland's own men and women.

Ireland gave the world one of its best contemporary playwrights in Mrs. Shaw's husband, and other distinguished dramatists, like O'Casey and Synge and Lady Gregory and Paul Vincent Carroll. Their plays were, in a happier time, acted by a matchless Dublin troupe called the Abbey Players. In addition, there is the poetry of such men as Yeats and Russell, and a heritage of native folk music second to none. (We don't mean ballads of the "Mother Machree" school.)

Mr. Shaw's acquaintances have said that he was painfully shy and practically tongue-tied when Mrs. Shaw first met him. Perhaps she regarded this as a prevalent national affliction and, seeing how culture produced the voluble, volatile GSB of later years, hoped that her bequest might work the same miracle on the whole country.

We hope that isn't the case. Brilliant as the aged playwright is, he is also inclined to be a little exhausting. And we doubt that an exhausted post-war world could cope with an Ireland full of G. B. Shaws.

WHAT PRICE ESPIONAGE?

From Sweden comes word that the nazis are offering $57.90 a week for male spies in Denmark, and only $28.05 for women. This is a rude jolt to our treasured fancy of European espionage, where jeweled Mata Haris lure men and countries to their doom, risking death for failure but richly rewarded for success. It seems, in fact, a direct slap at Hitler's vaunted Nordic womanhood.

On second thought, however, it is even more of a tribute to the spirit of the Danish underground. It is likely that the nazis realize that it takes more than a slinky black dress, ropes of pearls, veiled glances and insinuating wiles to entice the Danish patrol from his duty. What the job probably needs is strength, endurance and a taste for cold-bloodedness. And the nazis seem to be paying accordingly.

FINAL FAREWELL

We read with a twinge of wistful sadness President Roosevelt's denial of the Teheran banquet "incident." Premier Stalin did not, it seems, conk Marshal Timoshenko on the skull with an empty vodka bottle to halt a lengthy and perhaps undiplomatic after-dinner speech. Marshal Timoshenko wasn't even there.

After that, we might just as well face the facts that there is no room in this grim world for slapstick. Ben Turpin is gone, Harold Lloyd is retired, and Charlie Chaplin is in the toils of the law. And now a story reviving the custard-pie technique in its purest manifestation turns out to have been the basest canard.

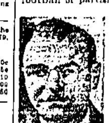
The Keystone Kops, alas, have entered into Valhalla.

SITUATION WANTED—FEMALE

Would you like to see a general clean-up in Washington, with the bookshelves of bureaucracy tidied up, the agencies in apple-pie order, a lot of needless paper work swept out, and public servants running your government as efficiently as you run your household?

If so, we commend to you Mrs. Nora Goner of Los Angeles; age, 76; occupation, domestic. She has filed her candidacy for the presidential nomination. Republican party.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG



Ray Tucker

CREDIT—The health-education-pensions program for World war II soldiers threatens to become the football of partisanship in Washington, although the prospective beneficiaries are still huddling in foxholes or sailing the seas. Individual politicos and interested military factions are striving for the favor of this large bloc of postbellum voters.

The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are engaged in a fierce rivalry which directly affects the legislative lineup. In their current membership duel the V. F. W. enjoys an advantage because it can solicit new associates before the end of the conflict. The Legionnaires, according to their charter, cannot enroll the fighters until they are discharged. As a result, the V. F. W. is making gains that may overhaul the better known organization.

To offset this handicap, the Legion has swung behind the omnibus bill introduced by Rep. John E. Rankin of Mississippi and Sen. Bennett C. Clark of Missouri. This measure provides in one lump every benefit that it took the older veterans many years to obtain. Those responsible for its authorship and passage expect to have some hold on the affections of returning servicemen.

The Legion has organized a special campaign on behalf of the Rankin-Clark proposals. Under the chairmanship of former part-time Gov. John Stelle of Illinois, it has circulated petitions throughout the nation.

When two million signatures have been affixed, the "Boys of '17" intend to stage an elaborate march on the capitol as a demonstration of popular support for their scheme. They hope to make it law before large-scale demobilization [illegible] claim the sole credit.

* * *

PLEDGES—President Roosevelt's aides do not intend that either of the veterans' organizations shall harvest glory from enactment of this politically important legislation. Democratic congressional leaders have instructed committee chairmen to bottle up any measures sponsored by outsiders. Messrs. Rankin and Clark have been extremely anti-new dealish.

The White House has no special fondness for the Legion which it holds to be dominated by Republicans. The break between the two originally occurred in 1933, when the economy act abolished or curtailed many benefits for World war I dependents. Year after year the Legion regained the advantages it had lost, but nearly always through the overriding of presidential vetoes on capitol hill.

Moreover, the omnibus bill vests management in the businesslike, long-established veterans' administration, headed by Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines. He has shown himself able to keep free from outside pressure in his handling of problems.

F. D. R. thinks that these questions should be placed under supervision of the federal security agency, where Paul V. McNutt presides. He is a former national commander of the Legion, but highly unpopular with its top men.

So, at the chief executive's behest, Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York has introduced bills which confer, in their aggregate effect, the same benefits provided by the Rankin-Clark program. These also embrace almost all the pledges voiced on behalf of the servicemen by Mr. Roosevelt in his famous speech last summer.

* * *

FUND—White House statisticians have fortified Mr. Roosevelt with powerful arguments to back his expected veto of the 1944 revenue bill. But he must "fess up" and disclose the emptiness of the social security cupboard if he publicizes their complete analysis. Here is the story:

F. D. R. asked for 10 billion 500 million dollars in fresh money. The measure stipulated only an extra two billion 315 million. But it also froze the employer-employe tax at one per cent instead of permitting an automatic advance to two per cent. That prohibition reduced existing income from this source by a billion 300 million.

Other clauses cut the treasury return by about 200 million. As the experts figured it for the President, the net gain from the congressional schedules will be only 800 million.

But if Mr. Roosevelt notes the effect of the social security "freeze," he must make it clear that these sums are used to pay current bills. They are not laid aside, as most people believe, to reimburse beneficiaries who fall sick or lose their jobs. Under present procedure Uncle Sam merely deposits paper I. O. U.s instead of cash in the account.

Fiscal authorities here understand the peculiar operations in connection with this fund. But it is doubtful whether the average contributor realizes that his old age and unemployment nest egg is spent as soon as the tax collectors lay their hands on it.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THOUGHTS ON GREECE

The National Geographic, which many Nampa people take, has an outstanding feature this month even for that publication.

The bulk of the magazine is devoted to Greece, not the tragic Greece of today, but the Greece of antiquity that fathered the civilization of the western world more than 2,000 years ago. The volume is filled with beautiful color pictures portraying the classic life of ancient Greece and many pages of reading matter describing its contribution to the world, but not overlooking its numerous wars, with the Persians, the Macedonians, the Romans, the Turks and others.

The Persians never conquered them, but the Romans did, only to adopt and pass on to western Europe the Greek learning and culture. The Turks ruled the Greeks 400 years. The little country was never a match for its neighbors in numbers or the might numbers make possible, but it moulded them by the sheer force of superior intellect.

The long, illustrated article does not suggest it, but this remarkable fact will occur to many a reader: That not in their history of some 3,000 years have the Greeks ever encountered a conqueror half as brutal, barbaric or debased as the present day Germans.

Is there such a thing as progress? The modern Greeks must doubt it when they contrast the glorious past with the miserable present.—Nampa Free Press.

BLAME IT ON THE WAR

On the first page of this issue of The News is a picture of the selective service group that went to Pocatello Friday for their pre-induction physical examinations. Next month, we understand, fully as many more Minidoka county men will take their pre-induction physicals.

Few, probably, have realized just what the sending of these groups into the armed services every month is doing to the population of Minidoka county and other counties of Idaho.

According to the census on April 1, 1940, Minidoka county had a population of 9,870. On March 1, 1943, federal estimates, based on ration books, placed the population of Minidoka county at 7,892, or a loss of 1,987 or an even 20 per cent. This loss includes the many families who have left here for defense work.

Since March 1, 1943, to the present date, the selective service has inducted 165 men from the county and probably 35 others have enlisted since that time.

The state of Idaho on March 1, 1943, according to federal estimates, had lost 10.9 per cent of its population. Greatest loss was suffered by Camas county, shown as 32.8 per cent. Highest gain goes to Jerome county, the Japanese camp at Hunt giving that county a gain of 65.1 per cent or an increase of 8,424.—Minidoka County News.

SUBSIDY PAYMENTS GO BEGGING

Many farmers apparently believe the subsidy program is a thing of the past, Carl Merz, AAA chairman, said Monday as he explained that very few milk producers have come in for their January subsidy payments.

Whether one favors or opposes subsidies, the extra money—on butterfat it amounts to five cents per pound—belongs to the producer and awaits only his proof of production. If the January payments are not claimed by March 1 it will be too late.—Minidoka County News.

THE WINNETKA PLAN

Silence, we have heard, is golden. A treasury representative was all primed to deliver a half-hour speech at Winnetka, Ill. Pained at the prospect, bidders for war bonds got together and bought $50,000 worth of bonds. The prepared speech was replaced by a simple bow.—Des Moines Register.

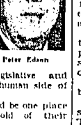
EDSON'S VIEWS ON DOINGS IN WASHINGTON

Here is an effort to boil down the 25,000-word Baruch report on demobilization and reconversion to 600 words.



Peter Edson

FUNDAMENTAL QUESTION—How will every man make his living when the war's over? Principal answers and solutions recommended follow:

WORK DIRECTOR—New office should be created to unify legislative and executive efforts on human side of demobilization.

VETERANS—Should be one place they can go to be told of their rights.

POST-WAR DEPRESSION—Not inevitable.

POST-WAR OPPORTUNITIES—Greatest any people ever had.

MISTAKES AND DELAYS OF MOBILIZATION—Don't repeat in demobilization.

FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM—Keep it. It has outproduced communism, nazism, fascism and all others.

FIRST PROBLEM—Get war work out of factories, civilian work in.

SPEED IN PLANNING—Necessary to avoid post-war unemployment and inflation.

CONTRACT TERMINATION—Provide quick fair settlement by government.

100% PAYMENT—For all items completed by manufacturer.

90% PAYMENT—On contractor's estimated costs, pending full award.

SUB-CONTRACTORS—100% payment as soon as settlements approved.

* * *

INTEREST ON CLAIMS—To be paid by government, pending settlement.

LOANS ON BALANCES DUE—T (Termination) loans to be made by private banks and/or government to all contractors.

AUDIT—Keep records for three years and audit for fraud only.

SURPLUS PROPERTY ADMINISTRATION—Set up new office with policy board from 12 government agencies to handle this problem.

GOLDFISH BOWL—Open all negotiations of SPA to public inspection.

CIVILIAN SHORTAGES—To extent possible, fill first from army and navy surpluses.

SEPARATE OFFICE OF DEMOBILIZATION—Not recommended, as it would only add to confusion. Leave job to mobilization agencies.

EXISTING WAR AGENCIES—Should be demobilized, fast as possible.

ALL GOVERNMENT—Needs general tightening in interests of war effort.

X-DAY RECONVERSION PLAN FOR WAR'S END—Should be made now by army, navy, war production board to estimate contract cancellations in advance, select plants to be freed, schedule reconversion to civilian production.

WAR POWERS—Extend price, priorities and requisitioning controls.

RAW MATERIALS—Review production and stockpiling programs to cut war-costs and prevent over-supply.

* * *

CIVILIAN PRIORITIES—Advance materials preference listing needed.

PRESSURE GROUPS—Have brought about conditions of which they complain.

INFLATION—Can be prevented if people will refuse to pay high prices, save money till civilian production is back.

STRIKES—"It is unthinkable . . . that a manufacturer would for a moment cease his efforts . . . to make greater profits or that a laborer would stop his efforts to receive a few more cents per hour."

SMALL BUSINESS—Lending authority of smaller war plants corporation and federal reserve system should be extended to help changeover from war to peace.

TAXES—Post-war tax law should be passed now and put on shelf.

NATIONAL DEBT—Reduction should be planned before war ends. Taxes can be reduced and national debt still cut.

PUBLIC WORKS—Worthwhile projects—not made-work schemes—should be planned and put on shelf.

CLOSE THE BOOKS ON THE WAR AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE, but first WIN THE WAR.

THE HOME FRONT MUST KEEP PLUGGING AWAY

Editor, Times-News:

We should all be brave and not have our hearts and minds altogether in the Pacific, and on something near and dear to us in Europe, and should put the "binocle" in our pocket and put on ordinary specs and take a look because after all it is America that is at stake.

We on the home front must keep "pegging away," like putting a nickel in a slot machine, we win nothing, we try again, we win nothing then presently up comes a deuce, and so on we try again.

If all American voters would put on their reading glasses and read your editorial of Feb. 22, "Aid to a Decision," then sir, I believe you will have won a "jack pot," me too.

MR. GIVENS CHALLENGES AN INTRUDER

Dear Pot Shots:

It's told by pretty good authority, that Sheriff Lowery sent his new deputy to execute some official papers in Rock creek canyon late at night when there was no moon. The deputy, on account of snow, was compelled to leave his car and walk quite a ways.

On hearing a hoot-owl just over a hill say, "who who who are you," Si stopped and listened when he heard the same words repeated. He placed his feet on solid ground, grated his teeth, with a demoniac smile on his lips, gun in his hand ready to spring with a yell of triumph upon his victim. Then he answered in a shaky voice: "Silas Givens, by gad, deputy sheriff of Twin Falls county and a gentleman. Now come ahead."

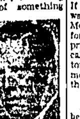
FAMOUS LAST LINE

". . . So tokens will simplify rationing — hope they know what they're talking about. . ."

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

CHICAGO, Ill.—Robert R. McCormick, the editor and proprietor of the Chicago Tribune, is raising generous quantities of something which in these regions is known as unshirted hell, a term whose precise meaning eludes me, over the fourth term, the third, second and first terms, our foreign relations, the foul intent of Henry Wallace to Sovietize this fair land of ours, the intrusion of the British in our domestic politics, Marshal Field's intrusion in local morning journalism and Mrs. Roosevelt's intrusion in everything.



Westbrook Pegler

Colonel McCormick is patriotic almost to the point of frenzy and he has been giving the new deal and its people and its blatherskite press a magnificent pasting at their own style of fighting which is strictly pier 6. They don't like it. They think he fights dirty but the real trouble is that he lets them make the rules and then stands flat-footed and rips the belly right out of them.

* * *

This is one of those historic journalistic scraps and, while nobody can have any way of knowing the extent of McCormick's influence and following, it would be silly to think that he speaks only for himself in his isolationism, his suspicion of Soviet Russia and of those who disparage the bill of rights and the mighty ability of the free United States to maintain a superior position after this war.

There is more isolationism and a stronger popular feeling of national independence in this area than you will sense along the eastern seaboard and, although, to some degree this is native to the region, unquestionably it has been whipped up by Mr. McCormick and in the face of bitter and often nasty opposition. He has been called a fascist by Mr. Wallace, who has taken an active part in the development of controls lifted right out of the book of Mussolini, for printing and preaching in strident alarm and anger his furious faith in the integrity, strength and future of his own country.

He is the most violent fighter for these things in American journalism at this crucial time and some of his blows shock even those who mildly agree with him because he has no more personal respect for the President or Mrs. Roosevelt than the administration and its press have for him and Tom Dewey, for example. If it is smear that the other side wants to play, then all right, Mr. McCormick will play smear too, but for keeps. He bars none of them, in print or on the air and when they call him a tory, which means traitor, he yells communist, which means traitor, too, and other epithets as rough.

* * *

Actually, Mr. McCormick has not been caught in sympathy with fascism, least of all with foreign fascists. He is an economic aristocrat, beyond doubt, even as the Roosevelts who have never taken the trouble to reveal the original source of the family fortune which, after several generations, still exceeded one million dollars, including $10,000 in war bonds, when the President's mother died a couple of years ago. He is imperious and commanding in his personal bearing and has been persuaded from childhood that this is a better nation than Great Britain, Russia and Germany and that any alliance between the U. S. A. and Britain should be made on our terms with Britain in the inferior position and as a favor to Britain, not to us.

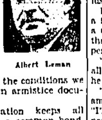
Marshall Field, in his fumbling Chicago experiment which only now is beginning to develop firm outlines under the management of newspapermen, has tried to heckle him and McCormick might have been wiser to let him be. But he cannot ignore a brick or a spitball from any quarter and he has turned from other fights with more formidable opponents to slug Field and some of the most ferocious cartoons and editorials of the age.

* * *

Not even the foulest guttersnipe of the new deal press has been beneath his notice and he stands his ground for his beliefs, quoting history, law and the constitution between snarling diatribes against the whole economic, social and political program and purpose of the Roosevelt government and its stowaway socialists and communists and discount-patriots in a colossal brawl that rages all up and down the middle west. Nobody could ever call him popular for his personality is not winsome but the man can fight and the worst that can be said of him in this battle is that he has not hesitated to adopt every dirty method used against him and use it with superior cleverness and force.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

BOYCOTTED — Regardless of their stern official pose, insiders hint that the allied governments may shortly let the German population know they are not planning "tooth for tooth" terms.



Albert Leman

Diplomats point out that our old demand of unconditional surrender by the axis does not necessarily mean that we cannot set up in advance a rough blueprint of the conditions we would write into an armistice document.

Fear of annihilation keeps all Teutons united by a common bond. A faint glimmer of hope might induce more willingness to plead for mercy. It is known that the state department is trying to frame assurances in the nature of Woodrow Wilson's 14 points, giving tangible promises to the enemy.

Much of our speculation about a German collapse is based on the experiences of 1917-18. But many factors are changed—as our army in Italy can well appreciate. In 1918 the kaiser's capitalists were ready to yield to preserve their industries. They foresaw that if their physical plant was left intact soon business would be carried on "as usual." Their shrewd guess materialized.

The blitz already has battered workshops into rubble. Management suspects that its factories will be controlled by the allies for years. Even the more optimistic anticipate a long period in which German goods will be boycotted. So, owners see no profit in capitulation and encourage the brownshirts and the military to fight on grimly.

* * *

SLAVE—In 1918 the breakdown of Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria cracked the nerve of the men around the emperor.

Hitler's crew is made of stouter stuff. His henchmen are not aristocrats with titles to lose or flabby politicians who pale at the sight of blood. They climbed to power through strife, treachery and murder. They are accustomed to ups and downs, to palaces and jails. The fall of Mussolini only spurred them to greater efforts.

The miserable people dumbly follow them, longing for peace but realizing that the end of formal war will be the beginning of revolutionary chaos and permanent slave labor.

* * *

SEVERE—Dire threats will not lift them from apathy and despair or inspire them to forsake their tyrannical rulers. Nor will glowing bluffs about happiness. They are so familiar with the lies of Goebbels that propaganda from any source is discredited.

The allies, according to statecraft experts, should inform the Germans in radio broadcasts that if the country quits it will find relief; that life will continue to be hard for a number of years, maybe only a small percentage less burdensome than now.

But danger will be removed and their sons will return alive. The people will be governed sternly but justly and in due course the reich can again earn a place in the family of nations.

If specific peace terms are offered—even if at first rejected as too severe—they will listen, weigh them among themselves and perhaps be ripe for surrender when they bear the brunt of General Eisenhower's invasion.

MARRY — The Baruch-Hancock demobilization plan rivets attention on disposal of surplus military goods and victory plants.

Almost equally pressing is the problem of what should be done with the installations Uncle Sam has constructed throughout the world. The following yarn, told by a famous New York admiral, is illustrative of the subject:

He was a guest at a party given a few years ago by the president of a Caribbean country, on the eve of the day the U. S. marines pulled out permanently.

"What are you going to do with all the things we have built here?" he was asked.

"I'll keep them up so long as I am in office," the executive replied. "I'll probably be on the job for the next 10 years or so. But after that—" he shrugged his shoulders.

"My people really don't want such improvements. They are contented with the simple life. Look around these islands. The French left fine buildings in Haiti. The Spaniards erected marvelous public works in Santo Domingo. They are in ruins today. They never were maintained.

"The United States would have done us a more lasting service if instead of laying out roads you had settled your soldiers in our hills and allowed them to marry and rear a generation of progressive citizens."

* * *

COMPETITION—National wholesale trade associations in New York are preparing for the postwar conditions under which their members will be forced to face a buyer's market. Shopkeepers today are more concerned about acquiring goods than securing price concessions and special services. But this simple situation will vanish on V-day.

Although leaders do not like to admit the fact, they apprehend keen competition from consumer cooperative movements. Such organizations have grown rapidly. The latest financial statement shows that regional groups of National Cooperatives, Inc., increased their total from 100 million dollars in 1942 to nearly 123 million in 1943, a jump of more than 18 per cent. Other mutuals are entering many fields.

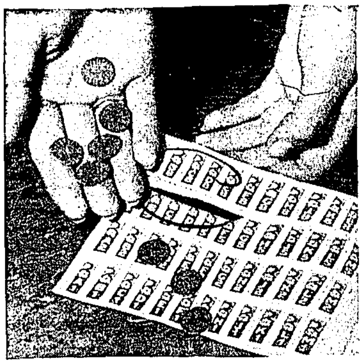
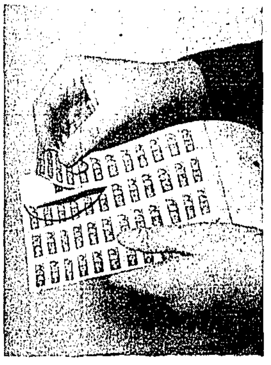
Ration Tokens Are With Us Now—And Here's How You Go About It



Here are the tokens you will receive in change for book IV blue and red stamps—all of which are now worth 10 points. You may use stamps and tokens to make the exact number of points you need. These tokens are extremely hard, and made of non poisonous materials.

These are the blue stamps—A, B, C, D and E in the eight-row—which become valid today. For meats and fats the A, B and C red eight-row stamps are now valid.



This is to remind you that you now tear "across" on the stamp page, rather than "down." Tearing the other way will now detach stamps that are not yet valid.

Here is the actual transaction. Miss Lois Hollinger has made an eight-point purchase, and is receiving her two points change in tokens from Harry Vogel, Twin Falls grocer. Miss Hollinger now may use the tokens for their value in points at any future date. They will be valid indefinitely. (All photos by Vic Goertsen—staff engravings)

The purpose of the course to be given is to assist new, and also some experienced volunteers to handle the increasing volume of calls for home service, comprising the various family services including reporting, communications and financial assistance for dependents of active and discharged servicemen.

American Red Cross representatives from the veterans' administration, as well as field directors, will assist Miss Lukens in the training program.

Scouts Plan New Waste Paper Push

Forty-five tons of wastepaper is the goal for Boy Scouts of the Snake river area council who will begin another paper drive on Thursday, March 10, Council Executive Ray Balmforth announced. More than 50 tons were salvaged during the recent campaign, he said.

"Mills reprocessing the paper have reaffirmed their agreement to take magazines and newspaper until further notice; the need for this waste paper is still very great," Balmforth pointed out.

Scouts from the east end of the council will attempt to collect enough paper to fill another box car—a half-car has already been filled at Rupert, and approximately 15 more tons are required to fill it. The goal for the west and north end of the council is another 15 tons, seven of which were recently collected in the matinee movies sponsored by the Twin Falls theaters.

Joe Koehler, Roxy theater owner, has announced that he will give a free show, treats of cake and ice cream and a cash prize of $5 to the troops doing the best job.

The public is urged to save all newspapers, magazines and corrugated boxes. Magazines and newspapers should be separated and securely tied in bundles, the corrugated boxes flattened and bundled.

Nice Gentleman Turns out to Be Bandit Suspect

BOISE, Feb. 26 (U.P.)—To Miss Marcheta Hanna, 19, daughter of Mark Hanna, Arco, and niece of Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen, he "seemed to be a perfect gentleman."

He was on the Salmon City bus when she boarded it at Arco to come to Boise. At Pocatello, Miss Hanna said, he assisted her with her bags (Miss Hanna recently underwent an operation).

"I exchanged some words with him," Miss Hanna said. "He had on dark glasses, was well dressed and did seem nice. He sat one seat behind me."

When the bus pulled into Twin Falls, a number of policemen armed with sawed off shotguns, surrounded the man as he stepped off the vehicle.

The next day, Miss Hanna learned that the "perfect gentleman" was James R. Bailey suspected of participation in the robbery of a bank in Spokane. He was carrying a pistol and a knife when arrested, and his luggage contained a delayed action bomb made from 14 sticks of dynamite, and four pistols.

"It sure was a thrill when I look back on it now," said Miss Hanna.

New Guinea Mud "Plentiful," Says Bomber Gunner

Staff Sgt. Lee Quilici, the top gunner and machinist on a U. S. B-24, who recently persuaded his bomber crew to name their ship "Lucky 13—Pride of Twin Falls" is now up to his neck in mud in New Guinea, according to a letter just received by an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan T. Stong, Twin Falls.

"We have terrible electrical storms here, and it rains every day. The biggest asset a fellow can have around camp is a pair of boots—either rubber or leather. But they aren't worth a darn for flying in the thick jungle. All leather rots; this includes my billfold — great country, though!

"During a heavy downpour the other night one of the boys was racing for the protection of the tent, but forgot that we'd dug a fox hole nearby. This fox hole was filled to the brim—and you guessed it, he fell in over his head—had to swim out. But a fox hole here is invaluable!"

Sergeant Quilici also said that while in Australia he found in the registration book at a Red Cross canteen a couple of names of Twin Falls boys—"Lee O'Malley and one of the Tyler boys from South Park."

A former mail carrier from Twin Falls to Wells, Sergeant Quilici is the son of D. E. Quilici, Twin Falls. He has been in the service over two years and overseas approximately four months.

Ration Tokens, Effective Today, Will Simplify Your Wartime Shopping Job

By MERVIN G. SHOEMAKER

Today, and from now on, the grocer will not have to thrust his hand into a jar, while you wait impatiently, and hunt for one-point stamps to give you your ration point change.

Instead, he will give you small red or blue discs, each worth one point, under the ration token system, which goes into effect today.

You will not have to call his attention to the fact that he has given you change in a stamp that is no longer valid, because the tokens are good indefinitely. You may not be encouraged to hoard tokens, but you will not have to buy recklessly in order to use your ration stamps before the expiration date, and that certainly is all to the good.

Shopping Easier

The ration token system is going to make rationing easier both for the shopper and the merchant. But before we sally forth with a market bag full of hazy notions, let's go over the directions and be sure we understand what's expected of us.

The first thing to remember is that the figures on the book IV blue and red stamps do not mean a thing. Each one of these red and blue stamps is now worth 10 points, regardless of its designation. We give the grocer a red stamp for, say, a seven-point purchase of meat or fats, and he gives us three tokens in change. If we give him a blue stamp for a seven-point processed foods purchase, he gives us three blue tokens in change. The eight-point stamp and the one-point stamp have the same value—10 points.

Although all stamps are of the same value, there is an ordered way to use them, so don't tear out stamps willy-nilly. OPA has announced that the A, B, C, D and E stamps in the eight-row of the green stamps are now valid for the purchase of processed foods. The A, B and C stamps in the eight-row of the red stamps are valid for the purchase of meats and fats. New stamps will be valid every two weeks, says OPA, but the expiration date of the stamps good today has not yet been announced.

No Points Lost

Do not be afraid that you are stuck with your brown and green stamps because of the change to the token system. OPA has allowed an overlap period for the protection of those consumers who have purchased only what they needed, rather than all they had points for, and who thus now have brown and green stamps left. The Y and Z brown stamps of book No. 3 and the K, L and M green stamps in book No. 4 will be good until March 20. Tokens will be given in change for these also.

When you receive tokens in change, they are then the same as one-point stamps under the old system. An 11-point purchase then may be made by surrendering one stamp (10 points) and one token of corresponding color.

Retailers will be given until May 1 to effect the changeover to the ration token system. Because of the overlapping period, they will turn in both the red and blue stamps and the brown and green stamps to the banks. The brown and green stamps will be turned in in regular food stamp envelopes, with each envelope containing stamps of one denomination, unless stamps are in complete strips—8-5-2-1.

Must Be Filled

After May, 1944, only gummed sheets will be turned in for tokens, and all gummed sheets must be filled in completely by the stores. These will be exchanged at banks for boxes of 250 tokens each. Only one kind of stamp, blue or red, is to be put on a single sheet.

The new ration tokens are made of vulcanized fiber, and—in case you're interested—they measure .624 of an inch in diameter. They are made in three layers with the distinguishing colors on the outside, and a layer of orange in the middle of both the red and blue tokens. The middle layer is to make counterfeiting more difficult. Vulcanized fiber is an extremely hard wood pulp material, and the small discs are expected to be long-wearing.

The tokens are designed not to operate in vending machines, and at the same time not damage the machines when they are tried, as they certainly will be.

Are Not Poisonous

Non-poisonous dies and materials insoluble in the human stomach were used in their manufacture for the benefit of that certain percentage of two- to seven-year olds which will figure that anything should taste as good as it looks.

The government believes that the ration token systems will save time, trouble, manpower and paper. Give the system a chance for a good start by carefully following directions. It will save you time and trouble, too.

Guest O. J. Bothne of the Twin Falls Lions club spoke briefly with regard to the coming Red Cross drive, urging all members of local service clubs to participate actively.

Announcement was made that "farmers' night" would be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Catholic church basement. Each Kiwanian will take a farmer as his guest to the dinner meeting at that time.

Guests of Kiwanis this week were: O. J. Bothne, guest of John D. Platt; Sgt. James Kenny, guest of Fred Meech; Francis Lund, Seattle, guest of William King, and John Savage and Harold Savage, Hansen, guests of Ernest H. Gyer.

FIGHTER PLANES LENGTHEN RANGE

By REUEL S. MOORE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (U.P.)—Some American fighter planes which have played havoc with the German air force this month can fly more than 1,000 miles, can operate at ceilings in excess of 40,000 feet, and have a speed of more than 400 miles per hour.

Those figures were revealed by the war department, which released details of firepower, performance, and other specifications of American combat planes.

Detail Kept Secret

Details concerning the performance of the newest and most powerful planes were not disclosed. For example, the new B-29 super-Fortress, the P-61 Black Widow night fighter and the Bell jet propulsion fighter were listed as merely having heavy armament and armor. It did reveal, however, that the super-Fortress is powered with four 18-cylinder, 2,200 horsepower Wright Cyclone engines and four-bladed propellers compared with 4,800 H. P. of its predecessor.

The Black Widow is powered with two Pratt and Whitney radial engines which give it fairly long range, effective speed and climb characteristics. The jet propelled fighter is powered with two general electric jet-propulsion type engines and its performance is listed as "secret" with this note: "In general the aircraft has high speed and high ceiling."

Hardest slugger from the point of fire-power was the attack version of the American B-25 Mitchell medium bomber, which carries a 75 mm. cannon—the same caliber as carried by medium tanks—and 14 .50 caliber machine-guns. The standard Flying Fortress carries 13 .50 caliber machine guns.

500 Mile Range

Farthest ranging fighter is the North American P-51 Mustang powered with a Rolls Royce engine, which has a tactical operating radius of over 500 miles, a ceiling of over 40,000 feet, and a speed of over 400 miles an hour. It carries only four .50 caliber machine guns, compared with eight in the Republic P-47 Thunderbolt, with comparable speed but slightly lower ceiling and a radius of only 350 miles.

The twin-motored Lockheed P-38 Lightning, which has the same ceiling as the Mustang, but not so much speed or range, carries four .50 caliber machine guns and one 20 mm. cannon. The Bell Airacobra, with limited range and speed, is still the heaviest hitting fighter with its 37 mm. cannon and four .50 caliber machine guns. The night-fighter version of the Havoc, the Douglas P-70, carries the most cannon—four 22 mm.

North Side Air Scouts Organize

JEROME, Feb. 26 — Air Scouts, squadron 300, met at 8 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 24, in the Jerome Boy Scout home to fill requisitions toward obtaining the Air Scout observer's rank.

The local Air Scout organization is a Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored group, and the squadron committee is made up of Dr. L. V. Ruebel, Berwyn Burke and Vern W. Tomlinson.

This group of Air Scouts has the distinction of being the first Air Scout troop of the Snake river valley.

Squadron pilots are Charles Shoum and Bertram Eakin. Don Gray and Harold Rooker are flight pilots.

Boys 15 years and older are eligible for membership. Classes already started are not conducted under the high school curriculum, but are sponsored by the Jerome Jaycees. Principles of ground training in aeronautics are being taught. Phases of study include apprentice work, observation, craftsmanship, air races, plane modeling, meteorology, aero-dynamics, plane identification and study of various types of airplane engines.

A public demonstration of model planes is planned later in the year in order that the public can see the work being accomplished.

Honor Man

CYRIL L. ADKINS

. . . Former principal of Wendell grade school, Adkins had completed his recruit training at Farragut naval training station as honor man of his company and is on leave with his family before continuing his naval training [illegible] staff engraving)

Navy Honor Man Spending Leave With Wife Here

FARRAGUT, Ida., Feb. 26—Cyril L. Adkins, 31, 561 Fourth avenue east, Twin Falls, Ida., has been named honor man of his company upon completion of recruit training at this U. S. naval training station. He is now on leave and is at home with his wife, Mrs. Audrey Adkins.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adkins, live at 820 Fourth avenue west, Twin Falls.

Before entering the navy, Adkins was principal of the grade school at Wendell, Ida., where he also coached and taught mathematics in the high school. Prior to that he taught at Homedale, Ida.

He is a graduate of the University of Idaho, where he lettered in track. In 1936 he set a state intercollegiate record in the mile run with a time of four minutes and 24 seconds.

He was chosen honor man on the basis of high averages in the recruit training program. He fired a perfect score on the outdoor range with 30 06 rifles, and 73 out of a possible 75 on the indoor range with .22 rifles. Adkins hopes to continue his navy training at a radio technician school.

He has two brothers in service, Robert, in the army stationed at Jackson, Miss., and Lloyd in the navy at sea aboard a destroyer escort vessel.

Bags a Nazi

FIGHTER BASE IN BRITAIN, Feb. 26 (AP)—Capt. Joseph E. Broadhead, Rupert, Ida., received official credit for downing one German plane yesterday. He flew one of more than 1,000 fighter ships which escorted heavy bombers on the attack against Regensburg, Stuttgart and other industrial targets.

Final Services for Plane-Crash Victim

RUPERT, Feb. 26—Funeral services were held in Aberdeen, Ida., for Miss Miriam Toevs, sister-in-law of Mrs. Rolland Toevs, the former Miss Margaret Creason, Rupert.

Miss Toevs was killed instantly while employed by the army ferry command in California when the fighter plane she was piloting crashed.

NURSE ENLISTING GROUP APPOINTED

Appointment of a state committee to direct recruitment of high school girl graduates for nursing study was announced here last night by H. G. Jeppesen, superintendent of the Twin Falls county general hospital and president of the Idaho State Hospital association.

The committee, of which Jeppesen is ex-officio chairman, includes George A. Collins, superintendent of the L. D. S. hospital at Idaho Falls, vice-chairman; Miss Emily Pine, superintendent of St. Lukes hospital in Boise, and Miss Lynne Wigen, superintendent of nurses at Pocatello general hospital.

Jeppesen said appointment of the state committee was made at request of the American Hospital association. The committee will seek to recruit candidates not only for the army and navy nurse cadet corps but also for civilian duty. All hospitals of Idaho, he said, are cooperating with special help coming from the state association vice-presidents, Sister Mary Hedwig, superintendent of St. Valentine's hospital at Wendell and Sister Mary Cecilia, head of St. Anthony's [illegible] hospital, Pocatello.

Public health units of the state, according to Jeppesen, have assured help to the nurse recruitment campaign.

Discharge Paper Must Be Sent in

Original discharge certificates, rather than certified copies must be submitted with veterans' applications for mustering-out pay, it is revealed in a letter to the Twin Falls American Legion post from Col. W. I. Moore, Ogden, Utah, army finanace officer.

"The original discharge certificate must be submitted," said the letter, "inasmuch as the undersigned (Colonel Moore) must place a certification as to payment thereon."

D. Harvey Cook, finance officer of the Twin Falls Legion post, who received the letter, suggested that veterans record their certificates at the county recorder's office before sending them in with their application. There is no charge for the recording.

Cook said the original discharge must be sent also by discharged sailors, marines and members of the coast guard, as well as former soldiers. Sailors and members of the coast guard send their applications to the field branch, bureau of supplies and accounts, Cleveland, O., and marines send their applications to the commandant of the marine corps, Washington, D. C.

Veterans honorably discharged since Dec. 6, 1941, are eligible for mustering-out pay.

Farm Manpower Loss Cutting Dairy Output, Expert Asserts

How diminishing manpower on farms is curtailing dairy production over the nation was described here yesterday by Richard H. Cronshey, Los Angeles, who was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Twin Falls county Dairymen's association, which drew approximately 450 persons to the Legion hall.

Speaking a short time later after selective service officers had indicated curtailment of deferments for younger farmers, Cronshey said that production of the nation's dairies last month was two per cent below what it was in January, 1943. In California, he said, dairy production for the same period was five per cent down.

Cronshey is manager of the Los Angeles Mutual Dairymen and director of public relations for the Challenge Cream and Butter association, which is the marketing agency for products of the Jerome Cooperative Creamery association.

Lowest Since 1938

"The number of cows being milked now," said Cronshey, "is the lowest since 1938."

Although the comparison of 1943 and 1942 figures did not show startling discrepancies, Cronshey said that the production of dairy products had dropped alarmingly in the last few months.

Postwar expansion for both the Challenge association and the Idaho dairy industries (which furnishes the association 60 per cent of the butter it handles, 35 per cent of its cheese and 40 per cent of its dried milk) was visualized by Cronshey in the increased population along the California coast.

Another bright prospect for the future, said the speaker, lies in the developments of research in the plastics field, where milk already has found several uses.

Cronshey stressed the importance of maintaining quality and operating at the highest efficiency.

"There will be keen competition after the war," said the speaker, "and quality of product, along with efficiency of operation, will be required to meet it."

The Twin Falls dairy operators received an improved idea of the importance of their product to a nation at war in a report by Cronshey of a recent survey.

"In a survey of housewives," said the Los Angeles man, "the scarcity of butter was listed as No. 1 hardship. On a list of 10 items whose scarcities housewives deplored, the first four were dairy products."

A successful year for the Jerome Cooperative Creamery company was reported by Roy D. Smith, Jerome, general manager of the company, in his annual report to the dairymen.

Smith said that whole milk receipts during 1943 were six per cent over those of 1942, and that the money paid out to farmers during that period increased by 26 per cent.

Reports were made also by Lyons Smith, manager of the company's Twin Falls plant; Herb Bless, manager of the Buhl plant; and Thomas E. Speedy, field representative.

Jagels Reelected

A. H. Jagels, Buhl, president of the Jerome Cooperative Creamery company, was reelected to the board of the county association, and C. H. Hempleman, Twin Falls, was selected as a nominee for the central board of the company.

Because of the size of the crowd, there were two servings of dinner at the Odd Fellows hall. While each group was at dinner, the other saw a motion picture entitled "The Milky Way," which was furnished by the Union Pacific railway company.

Payment Voted to Mother of Local Nurse Killed by Bear

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The death of a Nebraska woman as a result of an attack by a bear in Yellowstone national park—the first fatal accident of that kind on record since 1915—has been given official recognition by congress.

The house has passed and sent to the senate legislation by Rep. Curtis, R., Neb., to direct payment of $1,894.95 to Mrs. Christine Hansen, Holstein, Neb., in full settlement of all claims against the United States on account of the death of her daughter, Miss Martha Hansen, on Aug. 27, 1942.

The facts in the case, as outlined in documents on file with the house claims committee, include:

Miss Hansen was a member of a party from Twin Falls, Ida., where she was superintendent of nurses at the county general hospital, vacationing at Old Faithful inn.

She encountered the bear at 1:45 a. m. on August 23, 1942, while she was going from her cabin to another nearby.

Emily A. Heide, a member of the party, stated in an affidavit that she heard Miss Hansen scream, ran out and saw the bear worrying Miss Hansen about the head and throat.

The affidavit stated that "it was at least half an hour before a ranger came to the scene; that after about two hours an ambulance came which had no lights, and it was necessary for a member of the party to pilot with his car in order to take Miss Hansen to the hospital at Mammoth Hot springs.

"When they arrived at the hospital the only doctor there was just about to leave and the party was compelled to go on to the hospital at Livingston, Mont., where they arrived six hours after Miss Hansen's injury."

Miss Hansen died four days later.

The claims committee expressed the opinion that there was negligence on the part of the park employes in that there was no protection from bears.

Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, however, declared that "it does not appear the accident resulted from negligence on the part of government employes."

MINI-CASSIA UNIT PICKS DIRECTORS

BURLEY, Feb. 26—Four directors of the Mini-Cassia Dairymen's association were elected at an all-day meeting of that organization held Friday at the Heyburn L. D. S. church.

C. C. Nelson and C. E. Merz, both of Heyburn, were reelected to the board. Herbert May, Rupert, was elected to succeed Thomas Blacker, and W. F. Quast, Burley, was elected to succeed W. L. Belfield.

Speakers

Principal speakers at the meeting were Roy D. Smith, Jerome, general manager of the Jerome Cooperative Creamery company, and Richard Cronshey, Los Angeles, who represented the Challenge Cream and Butter association, which markets the Jerome company's product.

Smith complimented members of the Mini-Cassia association on the way they are meeting their war-caused problems, and revealed that they are actually receiving more money for their milk as a result of the company's plant being destroyed by fire last Oct. 11. The reason, said Smith, is that their milk now is being processed into food products at the Twin Falls plant, rather than being made into casein at the Burley plant.

Post-War Market

Cronshey told the farmers that the coast cities will provide an increasingly large market for their milk in the period after the war.

"Milk produced close to Los Angeles, for example," said Cronshey, "will be consumed there as whole milk. Milk coming from Idaho will be used for milk products."

Reports were given by Clyde Ross, Burley manager for the company, and A. W. Frahm, Rupert manager.

A. H. Jagels, Buhl, president of the Jerome Cooperative Creamery company, who presided at the meeting, reported that the area of the Mini-Cassia association showed the largest increase in production last year of any area represented in the Jerome company.

Thomas Maberly, Rupert high school Smith-Hughes instructor, and a member of the creamery association, talked on the improvement of milk quality.

A pot luck dinner was served at noon.

FARM MACHINES SALE AT $19,500

An estimated 600 Magic Valley farmers at least partially solved their farm machinery shortage problems when they spent approximately $19,500 at the second annual Magic Valley farm implement sale, which was held here Friday.

Kenneth D. Shook, chairman of the finance committee of the sale, pointed out that this year's event topped last year's $14,500 by approximately $5,000.

The Red Cross received $8 from the sale, there being eight bidders for a side delivery rake which sold at a ceiling price, with each bidder paying $1 for the privilege of bidding. The sale management had announced that all these fees would go to the Red Cross.

Machinery offered for sale was said to be better than that of last year's sale, which was the first of these wartime events designed to place available machinery in the hands of those who need it most.

The sale was sponsored by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the U. S. D. A. board, in conjunction with Twin Falls implement dealers. F. C. (Doc) Vawdrey was chairman of the general committee.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

The public schools of this country are unique in the world. To them go the children of people who have made this their adopted country by swearing allegiance to it and doing the work they find to do with hearty goodwill. They have come from the far corners of the earth; they are of every color and creed and nation. They are American citizens and their children after them will be citizens, with a better knowledge of their rights and duties than their fathers and mothers could have because of the work of the public schools.

Long ago I went to a public school, the first I had ever seen. I spoke English but my background was Italian and showed itself plainly. I was a fast runner and one day I won a footrace defeating the champion of the group and he, in anger, called me a dirty wop. I did not know what that meant but I understood the scorn and contempt in his voice and I resented it deeply.

One Teacher's Method

After that I heard other boys called other names in the same scornful and contemptuous tones and I felt sorry for them, knowing how they felt. One day the teacher made morning inspection with a searching thoroughness that mystified us all. When she had finished looking at the last boy's finger nails, boot heels and hair part she stood at the front of the room and said, "Any boy who sees a dirty boy in this class will please stand." Nobody stood, indeed nobody moved.

"So. There is no dirty boy here. I knew that long ago. Now you know it, I hope. I don't want to hear, ever again, one boy calling another names. Of any sort. You all come from people born in other lands. You are all equal because you are all Americans. You speak the same language. You live under the same flag. You must respect and help each other or you are dishonoring your country and your country's flag. Hereafter we will salute the flag every morning immediately after inspection and we will recite in unison our motto: One country; one language; one flag. And we did.

Impressing All

From there the teacher started a series of lessons unique in our experience. She took up, one after the other, the contributions each national group had made to civilization and emphasized them so that each one of us felt proud of our backgrounds, and each felt important to his country, the United States of America. Italy meant Columbus and art, and law; Judah meant Moses and the Ten Commandments and how important that teacher made those commandments; Germany meant scholarship, scientists, music, industry; England, the common law and great literature; and all these were gifts brought to enrich our land, our America.

In such schools the spirit of America was born; by such teachers it was inspired and sustained. Let us carry on. The United States still needs us.

Shorter Home Nursing Course Begins Monday

"Women who have hesitated about taking a home nursing course, because it takes too long, should not miss the opportunity to sign up for the course which is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 28," Mrs. Loyal I. Perry warned yesterday.

"Because of the shortage of nurses as instructors, this course will be condensed into a six-week period, instead of the usual 12 weeks, and it will be the last home nursing course until sometime next fall," she continued, as she urged all interested women and girls to take advantage of the present opportunity to learn as much as possible about home nursing.

Classes are to be held from 8 to 10 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays at the home nursing rooms of the Orpheum theater building, during the six-week period, she pointed out.

Miss Dorothy Collard, Supt. of nurses at the Twin Falls health unit, will be the instructor.

Anyone interested in taking the course is asked to telephone Mrs. Perry at 1191-W, or the American Red Cross headquarters at 101

Review of important accomplishments of the past club year, and action that "starts the current year off with a bang" were features of the Emanon club's meeting last week at the home of Mrs. William Burtt. Mrs. C. E. Grieve, recently named new president, conducted the session.

Because the club does not meet again until after the coming Red Cross drive, it was voted now to give $25 to the drive when it gets under way March 1.

Report that the club had purchased two more $25 bonds during the last bond drive, and that 276 garments had been made for the Red Cross during club meetings held once a month, and an occasional sewing meeting, featured review of past year's activities.

Articles made by the club for the Red Cross included 19 pairs of boys' overalls, 54 girls' and women's blouses, one nightgown, two girls' bathrobes, 98 pairs men's slippers, 40 bedside bags, 27 feather pillows, and 35 pillow covers. Mrs. Warren Williams was president last year.

Tacking lap robes for soldiers occupied the women following the business session.

MURTAUGH, HAZELTON, EDEN TIE FOR SOUTH SIDE TITLE

Play-offs to Decide Entries for District

Four of the five sub-district tournaments designed to select the entrants for the district tournament at Wendell on March 9, 10 and 11, came to an end last night. The one exception was the south side sub-district at Kimberly, where Hazelton, Eden and Murtaugh wound up in a tie for the championship with the result that a play-off will be necessary to select the two entrants for the district.

Meeting later, a committee composed of L. A. Thomas, Kimberly; George Blick, Castleford, and T. B. Irvin, Hollister, set the following schedule for the play-off: 10 a. m. Monday, Hazelton vs. Murtaugh; 8 p. m. Monday, Hazelton vs. Eden; 10 a. m., Tuesday, Murtaugh vs. Eden, and 8 p. m. Tuesday if a fourth game is necessary.

Other teams winning their way into the district meet were Shoshone, north side champion; Hailey, Wood River champion; Glenns Ferry, champion, and Hagerman, runner-up, King Hill sub-district, and Declo, champion, and Heyburn, runner up, Mini-Cassia sub-district.

Goal by Ross in Second Extra Period Wins for Hazelton Five

KIMBERLY, Feb. 26—A crowd that set an all time record for the south side sub-district tournament saw Hazelton, Murtaugh and Eden battle to a tie for the championship and make a play-off necessary to determine what two teams would enter the district tournament at Wendell.

With the exception of Castleford every team had a chance to gain a place in the championship play-off, but the Wolves saw that Hollister didn't by defeating Coach "Boots" Irvin's quintet, 37-27, in the first game tonight.

The Wolves, who were one of the teams favored to win the title in the pre-tournament dope, played up to form and gained a 15-8 lead in the first quarter. They were never headed thereafter, leading 24-12 at the half, and 28-19 at the end of the third period.

Murtaugh gained the play-offs by defeating Kimberly, coached by Idaho's only woman mentor, Miss Jean Parsons, 24-20. Murtaugh jumped into a 3-2 first quarter lead and then lengthened its advantage to a 10-4 at the half. However, the Bulldogs rallied in the third period but trailed, 19-14.

Kimberly made nine field goals the same as Murtaugh, but was only able to make two out of nine throws.

Eden was the leading team in the tournament as the final night of play started with three victories and one defeat, but Hazelton upset them, 30-24. Two extra periods were necessary to decide the issue.

Eden took a 7-4 lead in the first quarter and was setting a 13-8 pace at the half. However, Coach Cle Prince's aggregation sparted and trailed only 20-19 after three periods. The regulation game ended with the score tied, 25-25, and the first extra frame, 27-27.

A field goal by Pat Ross, Hazelton's star center, and Simmons, guard, won the game for Hazelton in the second extra frame.

Shoshone Gains 22nd Straight Victory to Win North Side

DIETRICH, Feb. 26—Winning their 22nd game of the season, Coach Elmer Eddington's great Shoshone Redskins defeated Fairfield tonight to win the north side sub-district tournament and enter the district tournament at Wendell. The score was 43-23.

For the seventh time this season, Eddington's "tent" defense blanked a team in the first quarter, the Redskins running up 10 points to none for Fairfield in that frame. After that it was a walkaway as the Redskins led, 26-9, at the half, and 36-15 entering the final frame.

Pease, Shoshone's sophomore forward, set the pace in the championship game, flinging up 13 field goals and a free throw for 27 points. This was the top scoring figure for the tournament.

Fairfield entered the championship game by defeating Dietrich, 34-23, in the morning duel. Fairfield led, 7-6, after the first quarter and 15-7 at the half.

Tucker of Fairfield had 13 points on six field goals and a free throw.

Richins' Field Goal Presents Mini-Cassia Crown to Hornets

RUPERT, Feb. 26—Coach L. D. Anderson's Declo Hornets tonight defeated Heyburn, 37-35, to win the Mini-Cassia sub-district tournament, but the Panthers will also enter the district tournament at Wendell as the sub-district runner-up.

The victory of the Hornets was an upset. The Panthers had defeated them twice during the regular Mini-Cassia conference season. Both teams will enter the district among the favorites.

Declo trailed most of the way. The Panthers held a 12-7 advantage at the end of the first quarter and 23-13 at the half. Everyone in the large crowd expected them to go on and win the title after setting a 33-22 pace entering the final period.

However, the Hornets slowly closed the gap and Richin's field goal put them ahead just before the gun ended the game. Jacobs added an extra point after the game had terminated.

Richins made nine field goals and a free throw for 19 points.

The first three nights' play had decided that Declo and Heyburn were to enter the district tournament and the other two games tonight only served as a preliminary to the main event.

In the first, Malta triumphed over Paul, 46-23, while in the second Albion, last year's champion, nosed out Declo, 46-40.

Hepworth, Albion's star guard, made eight field goals and four out of five free throws for 20 points, while Ferrin came through with three field goals and six out of 10 free throws for 12 points to pace the Indians.

Hailey Wins Over Carey

HAILEY, Feb. 26—Coach Daryl Martindale's Hailey quintet will represent the Wood River sub-district in the district tournament to be held at Wendell on March 9, 10 and 11.

Hailey had to go an extra game to gain the sub-district title, defeating Coach Don Blakely's Carey team, the defending champion, 29-27, tonight after Carey had upset the Blaine county lads Friday night, 24-23.

Scott Bowlden, Martindale's all-around star, was the game's hero. He not only scored the goal that put Hailey ahead in the final period, but he also contributed six field goals and six out of seven free throws for 18 points.

The game was close from the opening whistle. Hailey took a 6-5 lead in the first quarter and set the pace, 15-13, at the half. The Blaine county lads were ahead by one point, 22-21, when the final quarter was reached. The Blakeley men shot into the lead immediately thereafter and stayed there until Bowlden made his title toss.

Cook was the leading Carey scorer. He made six field goals and two free throws for 14 points.

Pilots Take Championship

GLENNS FERRY, Feb. 26—A record crowd saw Gene Cooper's Glenns Ferry Pilots gain the championship of the King Hill sub-district tournament here tonight by defeating Hagerman, 44-29.

The game was more closely contested than the score indicates. Hagerman grabbed a 9-7 lead in the first quarter, but Cooper's machine started to hitting on all six cylinders in the second frame and was in front, 20-12, at the half. The Pilots extended their lead to 31-16 at the three-quarter mark.

Joe Doboran, husky center, was again Cooper's big scoring threat. He made nine field goals and five free throws for 23 points. Hagerman's scoring was fairly well divided between the five regulars.

Hagerman entered the finals with Glenns Ferry and also assured itself of a place in the district tournament by defeating Wendell, 33-23, in a morning game.

The defeat of Wendell also made the district event a nine-team affair inasmuch as Coach Tom Prescott's team will enter the big event as the host school. Had they won this morning, Hagerman would have been eliminated and consequently couldn't have entered the district as the runner-up team, thus cutting the district entry list to eight teams.

However, Wendell buttered Hagerman as if its district entry depended on the result. Coach Harold Brown's lads leaped into an 8-1 first-quarter lead, but Wendell came back to tie the score and then go into the lead briefly in the second frame. Hagerman held a 11-10 lead at the half, but Wendell regained the lead in the third frame, only to drop behind, 24-21, at its close. Thereafter Brown's boys steadily lengthened their advantage.

Hornets Nip Bobcats, 43-36, to Win Big Seven Co-Champs' Series

BURLEY, Feb. 26—Coach Alton Fairchild's Oakley Hornets won their four-game series with the Burley Bobcats, three games to one, when they defeated the local quintet here last night, 43-36.

The game, however, had no bearing on the Big Seven conference championship for which the two teams finished the season in a tie, each with nine victories and one defeat.

Except for a short time in the first period when the Bobcats had a 3-1 advantage, the Hornets set the pace all the way. They were in front, 10-5, at the end of the first quarter and 24-13 at the half. The Hornets boosted their lead to 31-19 in the third frame but were outscored by the Bobcats in the final period, 17 points to 12.

Grant Martin set the scoring pace for both teams with eight field goals.

Oakley also won the junior varsity game, 33-20.

No Surprise

MOSCOW, Feb. 26 (AP)—The University of Idaho will have to line up a new coach for its football teams when the war is over.

President Harrison C. Dale announced that Francis A. Schmidt, who came to the Vandals three years ago after coaching in the Big Ten and Southwest conferences with outstanding success, would be released when his contract expires March 16.

Schmidt said: "I'm not surprised." He said he had no plans for the future.

Gil Dodds Close To Mile Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Gil Dodds, Boston's student pastor, whirled 11 times around the plank saucer in Madison Square garden tonight in 4:08.3 as he once more failed to break the world indoor mile mark of 4:07.4 in winning the national A.A.U. indoor championship.

He had absolutely no competition after quarter mile mark and finished with a 75 yard edge over Don Burnham, Dartmouth. Bill Hulse, New York, led at the end of the first quarter in :60.3 but then dropped back.

Cross First to Draw Crowds By Making Fans Dislike Him

Thirteenth of a series

• • •

By BILLY ROCHE
Famous Referee and Manager

Leach Cross made personal unpopularity pay handsome dividends. He was the first boxer to draw great crowds by making them dislike him.

Cross looked more like a casualty than a prizefighter. Pale, skinny and emaciated looking, he fooled spectator and opponent alike into thinking a stiff breeze would blow him down and out.

At first the fans resented being crossed by Cross, who disappointed everybody but himself by winning. They clamored for his defeat. Every time he fought the place was jammed with vengeful citizens who attended only in hope of seeing him get his block knocked off, and went away frustrated and angry when he emerged the winner.

It didn't take the fans long to realize, however, that Cross always gave them a run for their money, and that for or against him, he provided thrills either way.

Cross spent a couple of weeks training in the Catskills for an important fight. A wealthy cloak and suiter happened to be stopping at the same hotel. Upon hearing that Cross was a prize-fighter, the merchant guffawed.

Inspiration of East Side

"Him a fighter?" he cried, "why, my neighbor in the city has a boy who would kill him with a punch."

"What's his name?" asked Cross, whose real name was Louis Wallach.

"He's Hyman Wallach's boy, and is he a fighter!"

The clothier nearly fainted when told Cross was that boy, wouldn't believe it until he saw Leachie score a K. O. He became an ardent rooter, brought business associates in such big groups that they were known as Cross' buttonhole-makers' brigade.

Cross became the fistic inspiration of New York's lower east side.

Leach Cross, 5-7½, 135, was born Feb. 12, 1886, in Ridge street, in the heart of New York's teeming tenement district. Unlike most lads who entered the ring from the neighborhood he was neither a bully nor leader of a street gang. He learned to fight protecting himself from attack by gangs on the way to and from City college, where he received his education in academics and dentistry.

In 200 Fights

Cross began fighting at clubs near his home in order to gather a little extra money. He knocked out Bob Waters in his first fight in 1906 and fought nearly 200 fights between then and 1921, meeting the best, champions and near champions.

His toughest fight was with Fighting Dick Hyland, who stopped him in 41 rounds at Colma, Calif. That cured him of 45 rounds.

Cross was a great actor in the ring and this enabled him to land many a sneak punch.

Leach returned to dentistry, went to Hollywood, built a magnificent apartment house, went broke in the stock market crash.

Leach Cross is back near his old neighborhood in New York successfully practicing dentistry.

He was a fighting dentist who never pulled his punches.

Tigers Down Pirates to Tie Buhl for Big 7 Third Place

JEROME, Feb. 26—Coach John Norby's Jerome Tigers defeated Rupert, 38-31, last night to tie the Buhl Indians for third place in the Big Seven conference, which officially ended its season with the contest.

Rupert finished fifth and Filer sixth. Oakley and Burley tied for the championship.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26 (AP)—Harold "Jug" McSpaden, Philadelphia, managed to hold a two-stroke edge on the field in the 5,000 New Orleans open here today, though he slipped from his sparkling four-under-par first-round performance, going one over par with a 73 in the second round.

McSpaden has totalled 141 strokes on the 36 holes played.

CUTTERS PLACED ON FARM RATION

Distribution of cutter attachments for tractors to harvest the 1944 bean crop will be handled by county farm rationing committees to insure the maximum acreage harvested with each new cutter, Walter Reese, Castleford, county rationing committee chairman, announced last night.

Each of the southern Idaho counties where beans are grown has been given an allocation of new bean cutters from the total to be constructed by the manufacturer located in the area. Application forms for the cutters can be filled out now at the county AAA office.

Full information regarding the tractor on which the cutter is to be used is required, including make and model, cultivator number and type, type of axle and whether the tractor has a single or double front wheel. The manufacturer has advised rationing committees that cutters to be constructed this year will handle a maximum row width of 24 inches.

When applications are examined by the rationing committee, those which are approved will be sent immediately to the manufacturer and the applicant notified. Factors which the committee will consider include how readily available other equipment for harvesting beans may be, the acreage to be harvested with the new machine and whether or not the new cutter will be available for custom work.

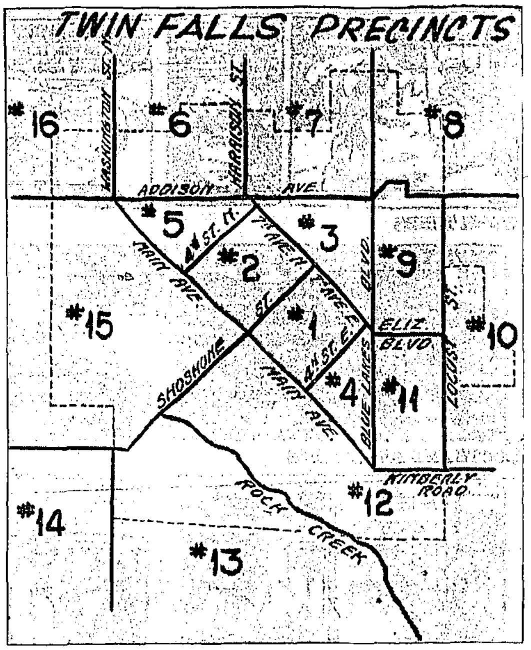
ATTENTION FARMERS

Due to the shortage of newsprint and the large number of farm sales we must limit this free listing to major sales using a 2-column 5-inch ad or larger.



First of a series of Twin Falls county precinct maps to be printed within the next week is this one showing the Twin Falls city precincts. Any resident of the city can determine his precinct by scanning the street boundaries. Registration will open in March and residents who are not on the books should be sure to register before the primary election in August. (Staff Engraving)

It's That Kind of Year Again, So Be Sure You're Registered

It's one of those years again. You're going to vote in a primary and a general election. You can't vote if you aren't registered. Ergo, make sure you're registered.

Registration books throughout the county are now being distributed to registrars in 38 precincts, and the books will be open for business in March.

Here, in a nutshell, is the registration story:

You MUST register—

1. If you have moved from one precinct to another.
2. If you did NOT vote in the general election of 1942.
3. If you have never been registered in the county.

One thing to remember, if you are a city or village resident, is that registration in municipal elections has no connection with your eligibility to vote in the state primary and state general balloting.

Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeley last night suggested a further precautionary matter. Said he: "Every eligible elector should check to make sure he is on the registration list, because every year there is bound to be a few errors in making up the registration books."

Here's the official list of registrars:

COL. VAN PATTEN GETS HIGH POST

BUHL, Feb. 26—An announcement from Lieut.-Gen. George Grunert, commanding general of the eastern defense command, states that Chaplain M. M. Van Patten has been appointed chaplain of the eastern defense command. Chaplain Van Patten carries the rating of colonel.

Chaplain Van Patten lived in Buhl for 22 years, coming in 1915. He was pastor of the Presbyterian church for several years, then taught in the high school. He became principal later, and in 1925 was elected superintendent, an office which he held for 12 years.

Chaplain Van Patten, who was a member of the Idaho national guard for 15 years, was called to duty in September of 1940, and served then as a major in the chaplain's section of the infantry division at Fort Lewis, Wash. In February of 1942 he was transferred to Sterling, Tex., and from there has gone to his present eastern location. His wife and daughter expect to join him soon in the east. He also has two sons in the armed forces and a married daughter.

SENATORS READY TO MAKE PEACE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (UP)—Senate Democrats, having demonstrated their independence, are ready today to make political peace with President Roosevelt if he will meet them halfway.

They would rather compromise their differences with the President than have the White House-congress fight jeopardize in any way the party's chances for victory in the November election.

The general feeling is that if the President will work more closely with congress, submit various phases of the war and postwar programs for congressional approval and desist from further caustic criticism, he can win almost solid congressional support—even for a fourth term.

If the President won't compromise, however, he can expect the campaign year to be marked with further rebellion such as the one this week which saw senate Democrats win Democratic leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky from his control and overwhelmingly reject his veto of the $2,315,000,000 tax bill.

Want Early End

A great majority of those who participated in this week's rebellion fervently hope, for the good of the party as well as their own political futures, that the episode has ended just as quickly as it began. They realize that Republicans could make huge political capital of a lengthy and bitter fight between the President and his own party members in congress.

Virtually all of them expect President Roosevelt to be a candidate for a fourth term. Even the most vigorous administration opponents despair of keeping the nomination from Mr. Roosevelt if he wants it, and they'd rather have a fourth term than get a Republican president and see their party swept completely out of national control.

Need Name on Ticket

Some of those who opposed the third term in 1940, but now are up for reelection themselves, have been soft-pedaling their opposition to Mr. Roosevelt of late. They don't want to change presidents while the war is on. They also figure they might reap some advantage from having his name at the top of the ticket.

Of the 39 Democrats who voted in the senate yesterday to override the tax bill, the President probably could count on better than two-thirds of them to make speeches for a fourth term if he chooses to make the race.

JEROME

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nielsen, Jerome, have received word of the promotion of their son, Thomas R. Nielsen, to staff sergeant. He is stationed in Lincoln, Neb.

Mrs. Merna Griffith, mother of Orris Griffith, Jerome, returned to Jerome from Elko, Nev., and will spend several days here visiting before going on to her home in Fairfield. Mrs. Griffith had been visiting a daughter, Mrs. Anne Edwards, in Nevada, for the past several weeks.

County Daughters of the Utah Pioneers camp will meet at the home of Mrs. John Woolley March 3.

P. E. O. chapter will meet with Mrs. Lenore McMahon Friday, March 3.

Jerome Civic club will meet Tuesday, March 7. Mrs. William Smith is scheduled to give a report on the recent Boise conference regarding the cancer control program.

Mrs. Dorothy Burks arrived from Olympia, Wash., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. York. She has been employed with the Northern Pacific railroad firm in Washington and plans to resume work there after a month's visit in Jerome.

WOOL

BOSTON, Feb. 26 (UP)—There was considerably more interest shown in domestic wools in the Boston wool market this week, the war food administration reported today in its weekly wool review.

Sales of original bag fine and medium Montana and Wyoming wools were reported.

Some good Texas 12 month wools were sold for use in orders for navy cloth. Some activity was reported in fleece and territory ⅜ and ¼ blood grease wools.

There was considerably less activity in foreign wools as a result of a reluctance on the part of topmakers and manufacturers to pay above selling prices established at the recent auction in Boston. Sales reported were at prices based on a mark-up of around five per cent, compared to full 10 per cent allowable which had previously prevailed.

Commodity credit corporation held on January 29, 161,539,095 pounds of shorn wool, 7,891,144 pounds of pulled wool and 10,488,401 pounds scoured wool, making a total of all types of 179,918,640 pounds—a total of 75,329,936 pounds having been sold.

TOMORROW FAIR

By Winifred Halsted

Copyright, 1943, Winifred Halsted— Distributed, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Kitty Bishop comes to the suburban home of her brother, Ben Graham, and his wife, Peg, to recuperate from her sudden divorce from Collins Bishop, a meteorically successful young lawyer. Kitty had rebelled when the increased importance of his career made him apparently neglect her. She makes a hit with ebullient Mac MacGregor and henpecked Randall Seaton. Mag Seaton shows her jealousy. Kitty goes for a walk with Mac.

* * *

XII

They walked slowly on but as they reached the Widow Reynolds', as Mac called her, where he roomed, Kitty said irritably that probably Mrs. Reynolds would be upset if he started entertaining in his room.

"She loves me like a son. Anyway she thinks I'm queer because I write." He kicked the porch step. "Queer? Hell, I'm crazy."

"What's the matter?" said Kitty as they went [illegible] stairs.

"My book's no good."

"Then why don't you fix it?"

Mac stared at her. Kitty went over to the window. In less than half an hour the [illegible] weather had changed from [illegible] to storm. Kitty shivered.

"Now what's your trouble?" inquired Mac, who [illegible].

"I'm mixed up."

"You and who else. What do you want, warm Scotch or sherry?"

Kitty shuddered and said sherry. And Mac said he was sorry the service wasn't up to her standards. Kitty swung around, took the glass he offered her. The day had changed. Something had changed the atmosphere around her and Mac too.

"Sit down," he said.

Kitty sat down on the near-India print that changed Mac's bed into respectability and a couch, leaned back tiredly against the hard wall. Large blue roses bloomed insanely on uninhibited wallpaper everywhere she looked. Kitty shut her eyes. She wasn't up to coping with blue roses.

* * *

"Listen," he said, "tell me something. When's he going to turn up?"

Kitty sat up with a jerk. Mac looked at her, his gray eyes intent. Kitty stared at his resentfully. "Who?" she demanded.

"The other guy. The one you fell for. You didn't go to Florida for the sun, did you?"

"No, but I didn't go just for a quick change of husbands either."

"What did you go for, then?"

Kitty slumped back against the wall and was still for a moment before she answered. "Because," she said slowly, "principles can be as real as people, and attitudes can be as galling as infidelity."

Mac snorted.

"Words," he said. "You have a word for everything, haven't you?" It's just what I figured. You went to Florida but you don't know why. I'll tell you why: "you got mad and quit."

Kitty stirred angrily but before she could speak Mac went on.

"Well, all right, you got mad and quit. What are you going to do next?"

"I don't know," said Kitty soberly.

"There's the trouble," said Mac. "It's a bad frame of mind to go visiting in. It unsettles the innocent bystanders. They wonder what you're going to do next, too. It gives Randall ideas, it gives Mag ideas, it even gives me ideas ..."

"I'm a little tired of talking about me," interrupted Kitty. "Let's talk about you. You're so penetrating it might be instructive. I suppose you always know what you're going to do next?"

"Not always, but this time it's easy. I'm going in the army. Come up and see me when I'm a general!"

He straightened up and slid an arm behind her. "Relax," he said.

* * *

Kitty drew a long breath that was almost a sob. Mac rubbed his cheek comfortingly against hers.

"Do you like living alone, Kitty?" he asked softly.

"No," said Kitty. "No."

Mac held her gently. Kitty was mildly surprised at the difference between Mac in public and Mac alone but Mac's whole identity was slipping off the edge of her mind. He was an arm that held her, a shoulder to rest against, a heart that thudded close to hers.

There were grim, decisive footsteps outside the door, along the hall. Kitty's body stiffened.

"That's only Mrs. Reynolds," said Mac.

But Kitty sat up.

"Now what? You are the most restless soul! Don't go away, Kitty."

The footsteps came back, hesitated, went on. Kitty moved away from Mac's restraining hand. She got up, frowned at the stormy, early dusk that had crept down unnoticed, walked over to Mac's desk and tapped on the lamp as though she were slapping a disorderly child. When she turned around and faced Mac he was blinking at her sardonically.

"Always the lady," he remarked.

"I don't care," said Kitty. "I don't like that. It makes me nervous."

"The Widow Reynolds? Darling, she's a lady too, she always knocks first."

"Mac," cried Kitty, "you're hateful!"

"Don't go home mad," he said, getting up lazily. "If you must go home, I'll go with you, I guess. May I walk you home, Miss Kitty, suh?"

"I don't know," said Kitty. "You confuse me. If you'd just decide what kind of a person you are and stay that way."

"I wouldn't have any fun." Mac finished it for her.

NINE INDUCTEES LEAVE FOR NAVY

Nine men accepted for the navy left Twin Falls Friday for induction at Boise, it was announced by Joe L. Roberts, chief clerk of Twin Falls county draft board No. 1, and four will leave for Fort Douglas, Utah, today for induction into the army.

Those leaving Friday for navy induction were Herman A. Christensen, Hyrum Ezra Bell, Elmer Junior Laubenheim, Kenneth Clay, Richard R. Smith, Merrill L. Cardwell, William P. Jones, Lewis C. Brownfield and Frank E. Yadon. Christensen was in charge of the group.

In addition to those leaving from here, four others accepted for the navy who are being inducted by boards where they are now living, are Lewis B. Wall, Oscar L. Bond, Donald R. Hutchings and Everett D. Card.

Those who will leave today for army induction are George W. Spencer, Vernon L. Dennis, Donald D. Dean and Doyle E. Banks. Dean will be acting corporal in charge. Two other local registrants to be inducted elsewhere at the same time are Charles L. Hanna and Frank H. Banks.

All these men, Roberts said, were among those taking their pre-induction physical examinations last Jan. 26.

Roberts said Friday that 256 single men deferred by board No. 1 for farm work have recently received questionnaires so that their deferrals may be reviewed by the board, in accordance with instructions received recently from state selective service headquarters. The reviews, it was said, will be for the purpose of determining whether those with such deferrals are still "steadily and regularly employed in agriculture, and producing 16 war units," as required for a 2-C classification. This will be followed by reviewing of 3-C deferrals, which were given to married men in agricultural work.

The number accepted of those who received pre-induction physical examinations at Boise Feb. 22 has not yet been announced.

LOSS OF LIMB NO LONGER HANDICAP

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26 (U.P.)—Surgeons and manufacturers have combined their science to make the soldier who has lost an arm or leg for his country "perhaps a handicapped man, but definitely not a cripple," McCarthy Hanger, midwestern president of the largest artificial limb company in the world, said today.

Hanger revealed that artificial limb manufacturers doubled their output in 1943, but much of the additional work they have taken on is helping rehabilitate the wounded soldier and convincing him that he has not become a cripple.

Loss No Handicap

"Sara Bernhardt, the famed actress of the American stage, wore an artificial leg," Hanger said. "She was beautiful and graceful. Capt. Ted Lawson, the author of "Destination, Tokyo," recently returned to active duty on a leg made in our own plant. Monte Stratton, former pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, lost his leg in a hunting accident, but went right on pitching and coaching in minor leagues."

Hanger named animal trainers, railroad engineers, miners, and even a parachute jumper who work steadily at their jobs in spite of one or both legs being made of wood.

Hanger revealed that a representative of the Russian government approached him at a recent international conference of surgeons and limb makers at Toronto, Canada, and wanted to place an order for 1,000,000 artificial limbs.

Suggested to Reds

"I suggested that Russia build factories in America close to the source of raw supplies, send craftsmen here to learn the trade as the limbs are made for Russian soldiers, then transfer the craft to Russia after the war," he said.

Surgeons and limb manufacturers have worked together closely, Hangar said, to produce a wooden or metal leg that does everything but hurt when it is bumped. The legs have flexible knee ankle and toe joints and rubber cushions that enable the wearer to participate in sports or do heavy manual labor.

BUHL, Feb. 26—The annual war fund drive of the Buhl chapter of the Red Cross is ready to get off to a fine start on March 1, when active solicitation begins. Buhl's 1944 quota is $7,000, which is $3,200 over last year's quota. Because of increased war-time needs, this year's quota is based on $1.10 for every man, woman and child living within the Buhl area.

E. M. Tomlinson is general chairman of the drive, with Jesse Eastman and Dr. F. A. Kallusky as assistant chairmen. Eastman has charge of the campaign in the city of Buhl school district, and he will announce his assistants later. Dr. Kallusky has charge of the Buhl school district in the rural communities, and he has announced his assistants as follows: Captains Arnold Tannler, H. W. Lehman, Frank Southwick, Clyde Smithson, M. Sandgren and Rev. S. C. Ort.

Defeats in Russia Bringing Personal Changes in Hitler

(Editor's note: The following dispatch was filed by Ralph E. Heinzen, former manager of the United Press at Paris, when he arrived at Vilar Formoso on the Spanish-Portuguese border en route to Lisbon for repatriation to the United States.)

By RALPH E. HEINZEN

VILAR FORMOSA, Spanish-Portuguese Border, Feb. 25 (U.P.)—The long series of defeats on the eastern front — the disastrous and futile drive toward Moscow, the annihilation at Stalingrad — have brought a complete change in Adolf Hitler.

As his armies fell before the hammering blows of the Russian soldiers, Hitler aged rapidly. In the last 12 months, he seems to have aged at least 10 years, with the change particularly noticeable since the siege of Stalingrad was lifted. Once firmly erect, he now is stooped, fat, and tired-looking.

Popularity Dropping

Inside the nazi party, his followers maintain the same fanatical devotion to der fuehrer. Perhaps it even may have been strengthened under the adversity of the situation. But outside the party, his popularity is dropping noticeably. Only a few of the outsiders, except the ardent followers, now are using "heil Hitler" as the passing salute.

Big, lumbering Hermann Goering, chieftain of the nazi air force, also is fading from the picture, mainly because of poor health. He tried to reduce too rapidly and weakened his heart, being obliged to rest for six months. After that he abandoned the diet, resumed his old customs, and now is fatter than ever.

Himmler Stronger

The one man who has retained his control and perhaps even strengthened it, is Heinrich Himmler, chief of the gestapo. He probably is the strongest man in the reich, outside of Hitler, and holds a stern hand over his 600,000 agents in Germany and the occupied countries. They operate independently of the army and are under oath to obey and protect only Himmler.

Marshal Erwin Rommel is another of the German leaders fading rapidly. His star dropped swiftly after Tunisia, but Hitler nevertheless named him commander of the "European fortress," including the Atlantic and Mediterranean Siegfried walls.

Most of the functions of other German generals have been a vacuum of silence. Twenty-two of Hitler's generals died in action on the eastern front since September, and only a few of them are mentioned, and then only briefly, in communiques and dispatches.

Foreign Policy Is Discussed for Club

BUHL, Feb. 26 — J. W. Taylor, Buhl attorney, discussing the history of the foreign policy of the United States at the regular meeting of the Buhl Kiwanis club, stated that our foreign policy began in 1822 with the enactment of the Monroe doctrine, continued to be in force until about 1900, and since then there has been no definite foreign policy of the United States.

"The business of a country is to protect the interests of the country, and we should look after all our affairs," said Mr. Taylor. "We have the choice now of either becoming isolationists or taking an active intelligent interest in world affairs. If we are to maintain a place with the nations of the world we cannot remain isolationist."

B. T. Alberton gave a short talk on George Washington.

J. A. Campbell was a guest.

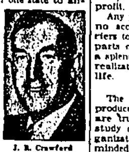
Looking Things Over

With J. R. CRAWFORD

A friend asked me why I didn't say something about the many trade barriers that hinder the free flow of goods from one state to another, and sometimes, from one community to another. To tell you the truth, I have had this subject on my mind of late. There is no question but that the prosperity of the nation at large is vitally affected by the stagnation caused at times by the restrictions of trade between states.



J. R. Crawford

Cases are legion, in which farm goods have lain in the field to rot, while only a comparatively few miles away, but in another state, there are many who would like to have had these goods, but due to state quarantine laws, high truck license rates or high freight rates, such goods would have to be shipped at a loss. This is not an unusual condition in regard to fruits and perishable farm products.

I was down in California in the winter of 1932-33 and found it almost impossible to get apples to eat, while at home, here in Idaho, good Delicious apples were going begging at 50 cents a bushel. I asked the reason why this was so and was told that it was on account of the San Jose scale on Idaho apples.

Truckers Blocked

Many times truckers have thought to make a bit of money on the side, by buying fruits or vegetables where they were cheap and transporting them to a place of scarcity, only to find themselves stopped at the state line by prohibitive truck license fees. The fact of road usage was not a point in these rates; the whole point was to prevent competition with local products. But the consuming public pays the bill, both by being deprived of excellent food and by having to pay a higher price for what it consumed. The grower also pays the bill by seeing his products spoil, or sell at much below the cost of production, at times.

Then there is the case of potatoes in Idaho. I have seen the price of potatoes so low that it did not pay to dig them, yet the railroads received the same price as they did when potatoes were from a dollar to two dollars a bushel. And again, there was a demand for the good Idaho quality, but the price of local potatoes was too low to be favorable for shipping. There is a story of a fellow who shipped several car loads of sheep on consignment, to an eastern market. In due time he received a notice that the sheep had arrived and had been sold. And would he please remit $25 per car to cover shipping charges. This resourceful fellow wrote the firm that he had no money but he could ship them some more of the sheep. All this is tied up with the problem of distribution that keeps people hungry in one section of our country, while food is spoiling in other sections or is being sold at a definite loss.

Another Barrier

Another trade barrier that is just as insidious, but often disguised beyond ready recognition by the public, is undue profits and artificial shortage. We only know that the price is too high, and often, in the case of perishables, much food is wasted because of spoilage. And how good that food would have been for some hungry person.

Saw a half case of lemons thrown away, a short time ago, and the price was 55 cents a dozen. Thousands of bushels of fruit are lost in normal years because the orchardist feels he can get a little more by holding. So to secure an excess profit, both the dealer and the public suffer. Often there is no profit.

Any post-war planning that takes no account of these various barriers to a free flow of goods to all parts of the country will overlook a splendid avenue leading to a fuller realization of the American way of life.

Cooperatives

The charge is often made that producer and consumer cooperatives are trust in spirit and action. A study of the purpose of these organizations will convince any fair-minded person that they are not designed to restrain trade. On the contrary, they are designed to expedite trade, by assembling small units of production into larger units and still larger units, in order that goods may be delivered to the consumer at less cost and with less expense to the producer. The result of this is that both consumer and producer gain by the arrangement. Take the case of our local livestock pools. Stock is assembled in larger groups and is made more readily available to the buyer, thus he can pay a larger price because he can save expense, and he can even pass some of this saving on to the consumer. Competition will take care of this matter if monopoly is absent from the transaction.

The various dairy cooperatives in Idaho, that have proven so successful, are most outstanding examples of saving money in the distribution of goods. Before the advent of the dairy cooperatives, cream buyers said they were paying all they could pay for cream. But the cooperatives from the start paid the producers a considerable advance over the prices they had been getting. The cooperatives have proven themselves great destroyers of the type of barriers that play a shortage on the consumer and against a surplus at the producer end.

Revamp Traffic Laws

A revamping of many of the state traffic laws, as pertaining to the passage of trucks in interstate traffic, could do much to bring more prosperity to both producer and consumer. With many of the interstate roads built largely at government expense, the highway barriers might well be swept away. In the interests of a greater America and world, all the others might be, too.

Meanwhile, it is patriotic to be thrifty. Save the American way, by buying bonds.

FIRE STATION OF RAIL LINE RAZED

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 26 (U.P.)—A spectacular fire razed the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad company fire station here last night, seriously injuring one fire fighter and destroying the company fire engine.

Kenneth Bates, 39, who was preparing his dinner in the living quarters above the fire station, was seriously burned before he jumped from a second story window of the blazing structure. He was reported in fair condition today at St. Luke's hospital.

The entire building, which also served as a coach and storage shop, was left a charred skeleton filled with twisted equipment by the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $15,000.

Firemen from four Salt Lake City fire companies, aided by part of the crowd of spectators, battled the blaze two hours before bringing it under control.

Meanwhile, the fire fed by oil soaked rags, burned through the entire 200-foot long structure, sending flames and dense columns of smoke into the sky visible everywhere in the city.

Destroyed in the blaze were a railroad company fire engine, a mobile pump, two pickup trucks, two small tractors, two railroad cars and other equipment, and the famed Utah American Legion 40 and 8 locomotive. A string of 12 box cars on a siding near the building also was damaged.

Salt Lake City Fire Chief J. K. Piercey said he believed the fire may have started while Bates was cooking some food in the living quarters of the company fire station.

A LETTER from HOME

February 27, 1944

● As much information as we can possibly cram in a letter: 30 evacuees at Hunt center have filed a petition citing denial of rights and asking repatriation to Japan rather than induction in the armed services. Maybe we ought to bury that item — but it did happen here. The second Magic Valley farm machinery sale was a huge success — turned over 2,000 pieces of equipment with a total cash sale to owners of over $20,000. The day was brisk as the bidding and the wind was a little bit raw.

● 118 men of Twin Falls county will leave for draft test at Boise on March 22. Wednesday of this week 190 went up for the once over. I think they all made it. Killed in an auto accident on the west outskirts of Jerome was Dan Easterly. Last rites in Twin Falls were observed for G. W. "Jack" Shroul, whom many of you knew. The Jerome Baptist church burned their mortgages last Sunday. Recently discharged: Clyde Green, Rupert, after extensive hospitalization. He has been in the service the past 18 months. Married: Miss Helen Frances Brown, Twin Falls, to Sgt. Donald Mahoney, Twin Falls. They take up residence near the airbase at Alliance, Neb.

● Petition for letters of administration in the estate of Pvt. Frederic William Rolls, Twin Falls, have been filed here. Pvt. Rolls died a prisoner in a Japanese camp last June. Lieut. R. E. Voeller — now. He's the son of the Buhl mayor and received his wings at Douglas army air field in Arizona. Two Burley men have graduated from AAF advanced twin engine pilot air school at Marfa, Tex. They are Lieut. Deloy Taylor and Flight Officer Keith Simmons. Sgt. Bus Pate of Richfield has recently returned to his post at Ontario, Calif., after a furlough at home. Other men in the service from the community: Seamen Vernon Sorenson, Nelson Pate, Dan Ray, Jimmy Powell, Frank Henkins have been home on leave from Farragut.

● Capt. Samuel C. Turner, USMC, married Miss June Browning of Wellington, New Zealand. Incidentally the captain has just received a spot promotion to his new rank after his efficiency in combat on Tarawa. Thirteen men have filed service discharges in Jerome county. They are: Clarence T. Bailey, John C. Brooks, Freeman L. Hale, Harvey V. Hite, Donald L. Jensen, Cecil I. Kennison, George E. Mahoney, Vernon E. Shurtz and Marshall W. Wilson, all from the army; Harold Adolph Kaurin, Lamont Oscar Morgan and and Delmer Coats Pinkston, all from the navy, and Avelon Olean Wells, from the marine corps.

● The weather? It's winter again with another new fall of snow on the ground. Cooling off in the evenings, too!

● Charles Gilb, Twin Falls, a sergeant in the marine corps, has been home on leave. Married: Miss Billie Lou Van Riper, Jerome, formerly of Buhl, to Lieut. Roger Lewis Guernsey at Grenada, Miss. Won his wings: Lieut. Victor L. Scovel, Gooding, at Marfa, Tex. Back from the Pacific: Sgt. Frank Crawford, Burley — he says "most of the men are in good health, looking for letters from home and hoping to get back as soon as possible." We can help that mail situation, of course, — and speed them back home by keeping on backing the attack with war bonds.

● Christened: The destroyer escort USS Gentry, at Orange, N. J., in honor of the Filer hero, by his sister, Jean Maxine Gentry. $8,070 was the loot charged up against a bank robbery suspect here in Twin Falls when he was nabbed at the bus depot. His personal effects contained several sticks of dynamite wired for sound, a sheath knife and a young arsenal of hand guns. Latest WAVE enrollee: Betty Eva Qualls, Twin Falls. She leaves for Hunter College, New York, for her basic training.

● The Globe Trotters defeated a picked team from Twin Falls last week. Score: 67-45. The locals boasted some stellar players (in their respective days)—Corky Carlson who scored 12 points, Al "Swede" Westergren who managed to net himself two field goals. Others in the local line-up — Thomas, Powers, Adkins, Petzolt.)

● William H. Detweiler (Bill, to most of you) Hazelton, has entered the Republican gubernatorial primaries. Glen Boren, Twin Falls, USN, has been promoted to the rating of aviation radar technician first class and Charles Miller, Jerome is now aviation machinists mate first class.

● Life on the home front is one drive after another—we have just finished the Fourth War Loan Drive—and with pardonable pride, I say quite successfully. Now there is the Red Cross drive which opens tomorrow—and I say this from knowledge of the situation through correspondence with you fellows. It is as deserving a movement as we citizens are called upon to support. I am sure that every Magic Valley community will "go over the top" in this effort, too. Incidentally, I feel this way about Magic Valley—these communities are more sincere in their war efforts than any other you find. Broad statement isn't it, but yet, just as sincerely, I believe it's true.

● From somewhere in England comes a V-mail letter from Cpl. Harold G. Phelps, Buhl. We're glad he receives this letter regularly through the efforts of his mother. Seabee Bill McDonald, jr. Twin Falls, drops us a line with a Fleet P. O. to say that he has enjoyed the letter throughout his training at Camp Perry, Va., and Port Hueneme, Calif., and now up north in the Aleutians somewhere. We're glad to hear from him and best of luck to Bill. Bill graduated with the class of '43 from Twin Falls high school.

● From Gooding comes word of former silver glover Pvt. Chas. (Junior) Young who used to be in Shoshone. It seems Junior stepped into the ring (upon his own request) after one evening's workout and training period and won his match in the third round with a technical knockout. We believe most of our Magic Valley fellows can hold their own at polite or otherwise fisticuffs due to the extensive boxing programs which have been in vogue in our schools. Sometime ago we mentioned Marc Foay's name in this letter — received some correspondence from his sister giving us more dope on him and now comes another letter from her telling us of his further exploits. He has been wounded and has won the Air Medal and received a recommendation for the Oak Leaf Cluster for bravery in action. He also possesses now the Purple Heart—and is now back in the fighting. She also reports that the last of Foay boys—Dallas E.—has been sworn into the navy. He goes to Purdue to attend the Navy Storekeepers school. And that winds up the Foays as far as civilian life is concerned.

● Glad to have heard from you all—and we'll see you again next week—same place.
